The image displays a variety of towbar components. At the top left is a black rectangular control box with a multi-pin connector. To its right are two coiled black cables; one has a green connector, and the other has a multi-colored wiring harness. Below the control box is a black towball. In the center are two black mounting brackets. At the bottom are several long black metal pins, a set of shorter pins, and various bolts and nuts. A small white label is also visible at the bottom right.
