Exemplars of Truth Keith Lehrer,2019-01-02 The monograph explains how knowledge requires the capacity to justify or defend the target claim of knowledge. Defensibility is based on a background system. Lehrer argues that reflection on experience yields a self-referential exemplar representation. This is the novel contribution of his new book to truth about the perceptual world.

Emergent phonology Diana Archangeli, Douglas Pulleyblank, 2022. To what extent do complex phonological patterns require the postulation of universal mechanisms specific to language? In this volume we explore the Emergent Hypothesis that the innate language-specific faculty driving the shape of adult grammars is minimal, with grammar development relying instead on cognitive capacities of a general nature. Generalisations about sounds and about the way sounds are organised into meaningful units are constructed in a bottom-up fashion. As such, phonology is emergent. We present arguments for considering the Emergent Hypothesis both conceptually and by working through an extended example in order to demonstrate how an adult grammar might emerge from the input encountered by a learner. Developing a concrete data-driven approach, we argue that the conventional abstract notion of unique underlying representations is unmotivated: such underlying representations would require some innate principle to ensure their postulation by a learner. We review the history of the concept and show that such postulated forms result in undesirable phonological consequences. We work through several case studies to illustrate how various types of phonological patterns might be accounted for in the proposed framework. The case studies illustrate patterns of allophony of productive and unproductive patterns of alternation and cases where the surface manifestation of a feature does not seem to correspond to its morphological source. We consider cases where a phonetic distinction that is binary seems to manifest itself in a way that is morphologically ternary and we consider cases where underlying representations of considerable abstractness have been posited in previous frameworks. We also consider cases of opacity where observed phonological properties do not neatly map onto the phonological generalisations governing patterns of alternation.

Postcolonial Past & Present Anne Collett, Leigh Dale, 2018-11-26. In Postcolonial Past Present, twelve outstanding scholars of literature history and visual arts look to those spaces Epeli Hau'ofa has insisted are full, not empty, asking what it might mean to indigenise culture. A new cultural politics demands new forms of making and interpretation that rethink and reroute existing cultural categories and geographies. These makers include Mukunda Das, Janet Frame, Xavier Herbert, Tomson Highway, Claude McKay, Marie Munkara, Elsje van Keppel, Albert Wendt, Jane Whiteley, and Alexis Wright. Case studies from Canada to the Caribbean, India to the Pacific and Africa analyse the productive ways that artists and intellectuals have made sense of turbulent local and global forces.
