The Anatomy Museum Elizabeth Hallam, 2008 Anatomy museums around the world showcase preserved corpses in service of education and medical advancement but they are little known and have been largely hidden from the public eye Elizabeth Hallam here investigates the anatomy museum and how it reveals the fascination and fears that surround the dead body in Western societies Hallam explores the history of these museums and how they operate in the current cultural environment Their regulated access increasingly clashes with evolving public mores toward the exposed body as demonstrated by the international popularity of the Body Worlds exhibition The book examines such related topics as artistic works that employ the images of dead bodies and the larger ongoing debate over the disposal of corpses Issues such as aesthetics and science organ and body donations and the dead body in Western religion and ritual are also discussed here in fascinating depth The Anatomy Museum unearths a strange and compelling cultural history that investigates the ideas of preservation human rituals of death and the spaces that our bodies occupy in this life and beyond

Illustrated Catalogue of Stereopticons, Sciopticons, Dissolving View Apparatus, Microscopes, Solar Microscope and Stereopticon Combination McIntosh Battery & Optical Co,1895 Newmann's housewifery for students Henry Major,1899 Owen's Ape and Darwin's Bulldog Christopher E. Cosans,2009-02-18 After Richard Owen criticized Darwin's Origin he was labeled a creationist by many and his work on ape anatomy was derided by Darwin's bulldog Thomas Huxley In this close analysis of Owen's texts Christopher E Cosans argues that Owen's thought was much more sophisticated than Huxley portrayed it In addition to considering Owen and Huxley's anatomical debate Owen's Ape and Darwin's Bulldog examines their philosophical dispute Huxley embraced the metaphysics of Descartes while Owen felt philosophy of science should rest on Kant's claim that sense perception does not tell us how things in themselves really are

Owen thought the creationist Darwinist dispute was unproductive and held that both 19th century special creationists and Darwin's suggestion in the Origin that God created the first life forms unnecessarily brought supernatural causation into science. With the hindsight of how the theory of evolution has progressed over the last three centuries, the Owen-Huxley debate affords the history and philosophy of science a case study. It sheds light on theories of knowledge that have been advanced by Quine, Wittgenstein, Hanson, and Putnam. Owen's Ape and Darwin's Bulldog also examines Malthus, Mill, and Marx for the influence of economic thought on early evolutionary theories and considers broader ideas about how science and society interact.

The Lancet, 1864 Leonardo Da Vinci Leonardo (da Vinci), Kenneth David Keele, Jane Roberts, 1983 This remarkable manuscript is almost 500 years old and was hand written in Italian by Leonardo da Vinci in his characteristic mirror writing and supported by copious sketches. It covers a wide range of his observations and theories on astronomy, the properties of water, rocks, fossils, air, and celestial light. The Codex Leicester provides a rare insight into the inquiring mind of the definitive Renaissance artist, scientist, and thinker, as well as an exceptional illustration of the link between art and science and the creativity of the scientific process. Each delicate page is faithfully reproduced and accompanied by an insightful interpretation of the original Italian texts by the foremost Leonardo scholar, Professor Carlo Pedretti. There is also an introductory essay by Michael Desmond.

Leonardo Da Vinci, Anatomical Drawings from the Royal Collection Leonardo (da Vinci), Royal Academy of Arts (Great Britain), 1977 Arab Painting Anna Contadini, 2010 Arab painting preserved mainly in manuscript illustrations of the 12th to 14th centuries is here treated as an artistic corpus fully deserving of appreciation in its own terms and not as a mere precursor to Persian painting. The book assembles papers by a distinguished list of scholars that illuminate the variety of material that survives in scientific as well as literary manuscripts. Because of the contexts in which the paintings appear, a major theoretical concern is precisely the relationship of painting to text. It rejects earlier scholarly habits of analysing paintings in isolation and proposes the integration of text and image as a more satisfactory framework within which to elucidate the characteristics and functions of this impressive body of work. This second revised edition includes addenda and corrigenda.
