Geological Survey Water-supply Paper, 1950 Climatological Data United States. Environmental Data Service, 1973
Climatological Data National Climatic Center, 1978 Climatological Data, 1978 EU and US Foreign Economic Policy Responses to China Joachim Schild, Dirk Schmidt, 2023-12-19 This book examines EU and US bilateral trade and investment relations with China their attempts to level the economic playing field and to narrow the reciprocity gap in market openness It explores the extent of EU and US policy change the underlying factors accounting for this change and compares EU and US foreign economic policy answers to an adversary increasingly perceived as an unfair economic competitor and as a systemic rival The book covers a broad range of policy areas from trade wars trade defense instruments their reform and use investment screening and export control to industrial policies It makes eclectic use of different strands of International Relations International Political Economy and Policy Analysis theorizing to account for the extent of and differences in the EU and US responses The People's Republic of China's stellar economic and political rise combined with the resilience of its unfair trade practices its reinforced authoritarian repression at home and its ever more assertive foreign economic policy has triggered a shift in perceptions of China followed by equally profound policy change in the European Union and the US This book expertly charts and explains this significant shift in stance This book will be of key interest to scholars students and practitioners in the fields of EU trade policymaking US foreign foreign economic policy EU China US economic relations European political economy and more broadly to European studies Asian studies International Relations International Political Economy and transatlantic relations Climatological Data, National Summary National Climatic Center, Art and Sovereignty in Global Politics Douglas Howland, Elizabeth Lillehoj, Maximilian Mayer, 2016-12-01 This volume aims to question challenge supplement and revise current understandings of the relationship between aesthetic and political operations The authors transcend disciplinary boundaries and nurture a wide ranging sensibility about art and sovereignty two highly complex and interwoven dimensions of human experience that have rarely been explored by scholars in one conceptual space Several chapters consider the intertwining of modern philosophical currents and modernist artistic forms in particular those revealing formal abstraction stylistic experimentation self conscious expression and resistance to traditional definitions of Art Other chapters deal with currents that emerged as facets of art became increasingly commercialized merging with industrial design and popular entertainment industries Some contributors address Post Modernist art and theory highlighting power relations and providing sceptical critical commentary on repercussions of colonialism and notions of universal truths rooted in Western ideals By interfering with established dichotomies and unsettling stable debates related to art and sovereignty all contributors frame new perspectives on the co constitution of artworks and practices of sovereignty Science in Negotiation Jessica Espey, 2022-11-28 This book explores the role of scientific evidence within United Nations UN deliberation by examining the negotiation of the Sustainable Development

Goals SDGs endorsed by Member States in 2015 Using the SDGs as a case study this book addresses a key gap in our understanding of the role of evidence in contemporary international policy making It is structured around three overarching questions 1 how does scientific evidence influence multilateral policy development within the UN General Assembly 2 how did evidence shape the goals and targets that constitute the SDGs and 3 how did institutional arrangements and non state actor engagements mediate the evidence to policy process in the development of the SDGs The ultimate intention is to tease out lessons on global policy making and to understand the influence of different evidence inputs and institutional factors in shaping outcomes To understand the value afforded to scientific evidence within multilateral deliberation a conceptual framework is provided drawing upon literature from policy studies and political science including recent theories of evidence informed policy making and new institutionalism It posits that the success or failure of evidence informing global political processes rests upon the representation and access of scientific stakeholders levels of community organisation the framing and presentation of evidence and time including the duration over which evidence and key conceptual ideas are presented Cutting across the discussion is the fundamental question of whose evidence counts and how expertise is defined The framework is tested with specific reference to three themes that were prominent during the SDG negotiation process public health articulated in SDG 3 urban sustainability articulated in SDG 11 and data and information systems which were a cross cutting theme of the dialogue Within each scientific communities had specific demands and through an exploration of key literature including evidence inputs and UN documentation as well as through key informant interviews the translation of these scientific ideas into policy priorities is uncovered The intended audiences of this book include academic practitioners studying evidence to policy processes multilateral negotiation and or UN policy planning The book also intends to provide useful insights for policy makers including UN diplomats officials and staff working to improve the quality of evidence communication and uptake within multilateral institutions Finally it aims to support the whole global academic and scientific community including students of public policy and political science by providing insights on how to input into influence and even shape international evidence informed policy making Academia Inc. Jamie Brownlee, 2015-05-01T00:00:00Z

Canadian universities are being slowly but inexorably corporatized Casualizing academic labour remaking students into consumers of education implementing corporate management models and commercializing academic research all point to the ascendance of business interests and values in Canada s higher education system Academia Inc examines the tensions that result from the merging of two fundamentally incompatible institutions the university and the corporation Brownlee argues that moving from liberal education to corporate job training public service to profit making and critical research to commercial invention radically undermines the goals of higher education Investigating the history causes and impacts of corporatization this book explores how this transformation has taken shape and its ramifications for both universities and society as a whole Brownlee suggests several strategies for resisting this process Competing without Fighting Seth G.

Jones, Emily Harding, Catrina Doxsee, Jake Harrington, Riley McCabe, 2023-09-11 China is conducting an unprecedented campaign below the threshold of armed conflict to expand the influence of the Chinese Communist Party and weaken the United States and its partners The scale of China's actions in the United States is unparalleled This CSIS report offers one of the most comprehensive analyses to date of Chinese political warfare activities and examines China's main actions primary goals and options for the United States and its partners
