Student Financing of Higher Education Donald Heller, Claire Callender, 2013-06-07 The financing of higher education is undergoing great change in many countries around the world In recent years many countries are moving from a system where the costs of funding higher education are shouldered primarily by taxpayers through government subsidies to one where students pay a larger share of the costs There are a number of factors driving these trends including A push for massification of higher education in the recognition that additional revenue streams are required above and beyond those funds available from governments in order to achieve higher participation rates Macroeconomic factors which lead to constraints on overall government revenues Political factors which manifest in demands for funding of over services thus restricting the funding available for higher tertiary education A concern that the returns to higher education accrue primarily to the individual rather than to society and thus students should bear more of the burden of paying for it This volume will help to contribute to an understanding of how these trends occur in various countries and regions around the world and the impact they have on higher education institutions students and society as a whole With contributions for the UK USA South Africa and China this vital new book gives a truly global picture of the rapidly changing situation Student Loan Schemes, 2009 Social Justice and Education in the 21st Century Willie Pearson Jr., Vijay Reddy, 2021-04-10 The world is not an equal place There are high and low income countries and high and low income households For each group there are differential educational opportunities leading to differential educational outcomes and differential labor market opportunities This pattern often reproduces the privileges and inequalities of groups in a society This book explores this differentiation in education from a social justice lens Comparing the United States and South Africa this book analyzes each country s developmental thinking on education from human capital and human rights approaches in both primary and higher education The enclosed contributions draw from different disciplines including legal studies sociology psychology computer science and public policy British Education Index, 2003 Practical Wisdom and Resilience Overcoming Downside Risk Kazuyo Hanai, Rangarirai Gavin Muchetu, Laban Kithinji Kinyua, Yoichi Mine, 2025-05-24 This book classifies and assesses the real and perceived risks associated with both the Covid 19 pandemic and government responses to it in seven African countries DR Congo Kenya Ethiopia South Africa Tanzania Uganda and Zimbabwe based on large scale quantitative and qualitative surveys conducted in 2022 2024 It also elucidates the people s resilience in overcoming the risks within their political social and cultural context Although research on COVID 19 has been conducted in various fields particularly in the medical field the analytical perspective of this book is unique COVID 19 prevention policies are considered to have seriously increased other risks such as hunger other infectious diseases interruption of education and various types of human rights violations including increased conflict violence against civilians and political abuse Therefore this book argues that COVID 19 prevention policies as well as the pandemic itself should be regarded as the downside risk that triggers the deterioration of the other potential risks to vulnerable people Depicted here is the account of how trust in government community and family within the existing political social and cultural environment created pandemic politics as elections during the pandemic instrumentalized and politicized government prevention measures Economic distress threatened people s lives more than COVID 19 during lockdowns and severe behavioral restrictions and the spread of misinformation discouraged people from being vaccinated This book will be useful to policy makers and practitioners in international society who are preparing for the next pandemic based on the lessons learned from the COVID 19 pandemic The Youth Dividend Jan H.
