national reports as exemplars of high quality school university partnerships in the clinical preparation of teachers According to the National Association for Professional Development Schools PDSs have Nine Essentials that distinguish them from other school university collaborations But even with that guidance working across the boundaries of schools and universities remains messy complex and quite frankly hard That s why perhaps there is such diversity in school university partnerships For the last thirty years educators have been fascinated yet puzzled with how to build PDSs Clinically Based Teacher Education in Action Cases from PDSs addresses that perplexity by providing images of the possible in school university collaboration Each chapter closely examines one of the NAPDS Nine Essentials and then provides three cases from PDSs that target that particular essential In this way readers can see how different PDSs from across the globe are innovating to actualize that essential in PDS development The editors provide commentary addressing themes across the three cases Each chapter ends with questions to start collaborative conversations and a field based activity meant to propel your PDS work forward

Methodist Education in Peru Rosa del Carmen Bruno-Jofré, 1988-06-22 With research based on extensive primary sources the author examines the activities of the Methodist mission in Peru in particular its educational work within the Peruvian socioeconomic formation and its ideological and intellectual changes Yet her study goes beyond Methodist boundaries Social Gospel doctrine and educational theory which link American Progressivism especially John Dewey s pedagogical ideas with Christianity are also treated at an interdenominational level The book contends that Methodist schools constituted an educational system of their own within a socioeconomic formation of uneven character a society where an imperialist presence was interwoven with pre capitalist as well as local incipient capitalist forms The author s analysis of the political dimension of missionary work from the quest for religious freedom to the attempt to exert influence on social movements leads her to consider the relationships among APRA leaders the missionaries and the interdenominational Committee on Cooperation in Latin America Bruno Jofré argues that Social Gospel doctrines although couched in reformist language were ultimately a vehicle of North American theology This book presents a refreshingly wide perspective on the development of education in the Third World as affected by missionary bodies from the First World
