Ancient Mediterranean Religions John C. Stephens, 2016-06-22 This book offers a clear and concise historical overview of the major religious movements of the ancient Mediterranean world existing from the time of the second millennium BCE up until the fourth century CE including both the Judeo Christian and pagan religious traditions Recognizing the significant role of religious institutions in human history and acknowledging the diversity of religious ideas and practices in the ancient Mediterranean world religion is defined as a collection of myths beliefs rituals ethical practices social institutions and experiences related to the realm of the sacred cosmos Without focusing too much attention on technicalities and complex vocabulary the book provides an introductory road map for exploring the vast array of religious data permeating the ancient Mediterranean world Through an examination of literary and archeological evidence the book summarizes the fundamental religious beliefs and practices of the ancient Near Eastern world including the religious traditions of ancient Mesopotamia Egypt and Israel Turning westward the fascinating world of ancient Greek and Roman religion is considered next The discussion begins with a description of Minoan Mycenaean religion followed by a consideration of classical Roman and Greek religion Next the numerous religious movements that blossomed during Hellenistic Roman times are discussed In addition the fundamental theological contributions of various Greco Roman philosophical schools of thought including Orphism Stoicism Pythagoreanism Platonism and Neo Platonism are described Greco Roman philosophy functioned as a quasi religious outlook for many and played a decisive role in the evolution of religion in the classical and Hellenistic period The theological speculations of the philosophers regarding the nature of God and the soul made a huge impact in religious circles during the classical and Hellenistic era Moving forward in history from archaic and classical times to the later Hellenistic Roman period the old religious order of the past falls by the wayside and a new updated religious paradigm begins to develop throughout the Mediterranean world with a greater emphasis being placed upon the religious individual and the expression of personal religious feelings There are several important social and historical reasons for this shift in perspective and these factors are explained in the chapter focusing upon personal religion in Hellenistic times Since the entire religious topography of the ancient Mediterranean world is rarely outlined in a single

Ancient Egyptian Law and Governance Omar Khalil, Ancient Egyptian law was deeply rooted in the concept of Ma at the divine order that governed the universe and ensured balance truth and justice This principle was not just a philosophical ideal but a practical guide for governance and social conduct The legal system in Egypt was designed to maintain harmony within society regulate disputes and uphold the authority of the ruling elite Unlike modern legal frameworks based on written statutes Egyptian law was a combination of tradition royal decrees and religious doctrines It was adaptable relying on the wisdom of judges and officials rather than rigid legal codes The origins of legal traditions in ancient Egypt can be traced back to the early dynastic period when the first centralized state emerged As society became more complex a structured system of governance was necessary to manage resources trade and interpersonal conflicts The earliest evidence of legal practice comes from administrative records tomb inscriptions and temple documents which indicate that law was an integral part of daily life While no single codified legal text has survived references to decrees issued by pharaohs suggest that laws were issued and enforced at the highest levels of authority At the heart of Egyptian governance was the role of Ma at which extended beyond ethical conduct to legal proceedings Ma at represented a cosmic balance that rulers were duty bound to uphold The pharaoh as the earthly representative of the gods was seen as the ultimate source of justice His decrees and judgments set legal precedents shaping the administration of law across the kingdom This divine connection made Egyptian law unique as it blended religious principles with practical governance ensuring that justice was not only a human responsibility but also a sacred duty

Ancient Egyptian Beads Nai Xia, 2014-06-03. This book presents a detailed analysis and thorough study of the unique collection of Ancient Egyptian beads in the Petrie Museum of Egyptian Archaeology in London. The book first discusses the archaeological value of beads and the method employed in the study of them, especially emphasizing the importance of the technique of bead making for dating purposes. It then examines and evaluates various schemes for the classification of beads. The book goes on to propose a new classification system and works out a comprehensive corpus of beads with the aid of sixteen plates. Next, the book features a chronological survey that details the material typology, including the technical peculiarities, use, arrangement, and pictorial representation of beads throughout the nine divisions or periods of Ancient Egyptian history. This survey points out the characteristics of each period as well as any contact Egypt may have experienced with foreign countries as shown by the beads. It also corrects much wrong identification of materials and mistaken datings. This book is based on the Ph.D. dissertation written by pioneering Chinese archaeologist Xia Nai when he studied in London College University some 70 years ago and who had direct access to considerable firsthand resources at the forefront of Egyptology research. It represents a crucial and long-awaited advance in archaeology, not only for Egypt but for the study of the past across Africa and beyond.

The Materiality of Texts from Ancient Egypt, 2018-10-08. The volume The Materiality of Texts from Ancient Egypt contains nine contributions from well-known papyrologists, Egyptologists, archaeologists, and technical specialists.
