- Circulatory pathways of blood

Coronary Circulation arises from the ascending aorta and encircles the heart with blood flow from 2 coronary arteries (1 Left & 1 Right) to supply oxygenated blood to the myocardium. The left coronary Artery passes inferior to the left auricle and divides into the anterior interventricular and circumflex branches. The Left anterior descending (LAD) is the anterior interventricular sulcus and supplies blood to both ventricles. The circumflex branch lies in the coronary sulcus; distributes blood to the walls of the left Ventricle and Atrium. The Right Coronary Artery supplies small branches to the Right Atrium and divides into the Posterior Interventricular branch and marginal branch. The Posterior Interventricular branch supplies the two ventricles with oxygenated blood, and the marginal branch transports oxygenated blood to the right ventricle. Most of the Deoxygenated blood drains from the myocardium into the Vascular Sinus (posterior surface of the heart) called the Coronary Sinus. The Deoxygenated blood in the coronary sinus empties into the right atrium to travel in the Pulmonary Circulation.

Umbilical Arteries (2 Arteries) carry Deoxygenated blood to the placenta to receive nutrients and oxygen. Umbilical Vein (1 Vein) carries oxygenated blood to the liver through the hepatic portal vein and through the Ductus Venosus which carries oxygenated blood to the inferior vena cava. The Placenta provides the fetus with nutrients and oxygen, meaning pulmonary circulation is not involved during fetal circulation. Postnatal circulation, the Foramen Ovale closes, becoming the Fossa Ovalis; the Ductus Venosus becomes the Ligamentum Venosum; the Ductus Arteriosus
