American Cinema American Culture 4th Edition:

American Cinema/American Culture John Belton, 2021 This book introduces the reader to basic issues related to the phenomenon of American cinema It looks at American film history from the 1890s through the spring of 2020 but it does not always explore this history in a purely chronological way In fact it is not strictly speaking a history Rather it is a cultural history which focuses more on topics and issues than on what happened when It begins with a profile of classical Hollywood cinema as a unique economic industrial aesthetic and cultural institution It considers the experience of moviegoing the nature of Hollywood storytelling and the roles played by the studio system the star system and film genres in the creation of a body of work that functions not only as entertainment but as a portrait of the relationship between an American national identity and an industrialized mass culture that has slowly evolved over the past century This book assumes that the reader has little or no formal training in film history theory or aesthetics It presents fairly basic concepts in such a way as to encourage discussion not so much of individual films but of films in general For this reason the book concentrates on large groupings of films on genres topics and periods of film history This textbook differs from the more traditional histories of the cinema for certain specific and important reasons Over the past fifty years the field of film study has undergone a tremendous transformation This change has been spearheaded by the work of a new generation of scholars who challenge the traditional way in which film history has been written and taught Introduction to Film courses that fifty years ago taught film as art drew heavily upon the approaches of New Criticism Contemporary film courses now teach film not only as art but also as film and they attempt to situate film as an art form within a larger industrial economic social and cultural context They rely heavily on cultural studies new historicism psychoanalysis and other contemporary critical disciplines Film history texts have changed over the years as well In the past histories consisted of simple chronological accounts of who did what and what happened when and of the stories of great men and their achievements and of straightforward accounts of the influence of technology and economics on the course of a history that unfolds in a linear fashion up to the present More recently film scholars have begun to rewrite these traditional histories creating what Thomas Elsaesser refers to as the New Film History At its best this history is driven by a sophisticated theoretically informed revisionism It simply refuses to accept the easy answers to basic historical questions that had been offered up by past historians With the initial publication of American Cinema American Culture in 1994 the methods and discoveries of the New Film History were applied to an introductory level text surveying the history of the American cinema

Looseleaf for American Cinema/American Culture John Belton, 2015-07-27 American Cinema American Culture looks at the interplay between American cinema and mass culture from the 1890s to 2011 It begins with an examination of the basic narrative and stylistic features of classical Hollywood cinema It then studies the genres of silent melodrama the musical American comedy the war combat film film noir the western and the horror and science fiction film investigating the way in which movies shape and are shaped by the larger cultural concerns of the nation as a whole The book concludes with a discussion of post World War II Hollywood giving separate chapter coverage to the effects of the Cold War 3D television the counterculture of the 1960s directors from the film school generation and the cultural concerns of Hollywood from the 1970s through 2011 Ideal for Introduction to American Cinema courses American Film History courses and Introductory Film Appreciation courses this text provides a cultural overview of the phenomenon of the American movie going experience An updated study guide is also available for American Cinema American Culture Written by Ed Sikov this guide introduces each topic with an explanatory overview written in more informal language suggests screenings and readings and offers self tests Instructors and students can now access their course content through the Connect digital learning platform by purchasing either standalone Connect access or a bundle of print and Connect access McGraw Hill Connect is a subscription based learning service accessible online through your personal computer or tablet Choose this option if your instructor will require Connect to be used in the course Your subscription to Connect includes the following SmartBook an adaptive digital version of the course textbook that personalizes your reading experience based on how well you are learning the content Access to your instructor s homework assignments quizzes syllabus notes reminders and other important files for the course Progress dashboards that quickly show how you are performing on your assignments and tips for improvement The option to purchase for a small fee a print version of the book This binder ready loose leaf version includes free shipping Complete system requirements to use Connect can be found here <http://www.mheducation.com/highered/platforms/connect/training/support/students.html> American Cinema and Cultural Diplomacy Thomas J. Cobb, 2020-07-25 This book contends that Hollywood films help illuminate the incongruities of various periods in American diplomacy From the war film Bataan to the Revisionist Western The Wild Bunch cinema has long reflected US foreign policy s divisiveness both directly and allegorically Beginning with the 1990s presidential drama The American President and concluding with Joker s allegorical treatment of the Trump era this book posits that the paradigms for political reflection are shifting in American film from explicit subtexts surrounding US statecraft to covert representations of diplomatic disarray It further argues that the International Relations theorist Walter Mead s concept of a US polity dominated by contesting beliefs or a kaleidoscope permeates these changing paradigms This synergy reveals a cultural milieu where foreign policy fissures are increasingly encoded by cinematic representation The interdisciplinarity of this focus renders this book pertinent reading for scholars and students of American Studies Film Studies and International Relations along with those generally interested in Hollywood filmmakers and foreign policy Hip Hop in American Cinema Melvin Burke Donalson, 2007 Hip Hop in American Cinema examines the manner in which American feature films have served as the primary medium for mainstreaming hip hop culture into American society With their glamorizing portrayals of graffiti writing break dancing rap music clothing and language Hollywood movies have established hip hop as a desirable youth movement This book demonstrates how Hollywood studios and producers have exploited the profitable connection among rappers soundtracks and mass audiences Hip Hop in American Cinema offers valuable information for courses in film studies popular culture and American studies

Ida Lupino, Director Therese Grisham, Julie Grossman, 2017-05-23 Dominated by men and bound by the restrictive Hays Code postwar Hollywood offered little support for a female director who sought to make unique films on controversial subjects But Ida Lupino bucked the system writing and directing a string of movies that exposed the dark underside of American society on topics such as rape polio unwed motherhood bigamy exploitative sports and serial murder The first in depth study devoted to Lupino's directorial work this book makes a strong case for her as a trailblazing feminist auteur a filmmaker with a clear signature style and an abiding interest in depicting the plights of postwar American women Ida Lupino Director not only examines her work as a cinematic auteur but also offers a serious consideration of her diverse and long ranging career getting her start in Hollywood as an actress in her teens and twenties directing her first films in her early thirties and later working as an acclaimed director of television westerns sitcoms and suspense dramas It also demonstrates how Lupino fused generic elements of film noir and the social problem film to create a distinctive directorial style that was both highly expressionistic and grittily realistic Ida Lupino Director thus shines a long awaited spotlight on one of our greatest filmmakers
