American Aces Against The Kamikaze:

American Aces against the Kamikaze Edward M. Young, 2013-09-20 This illustrated history describes the clashes between the US against the hastily created Kamikaze units of the Imperial Japanese Army and Navy Air Forces some of the last large scale aerial engagements of the Pacific War The Japanese High Command realised that the loss of Okinawa would give the Americans a base for the invasion of Japan Its desperate response was to unleash the full force of the Special Attack Units known in the west as the Kamikaze Divine Wind In a series of mass attacks in between April and June 1945 more than 900 Kamikaze aeroplanes were shot down Conventional fighters and bombers accompanied the Special Attack Units as escorts and to add their own weight to the attacks on the US fleet In the air battles leading up to the invasion of Okinawa as well as those that raged over the island in the three months that followed the Japanese lost more than 7 000 aircraft both in the air and on the ground In the course of the fighting 67 Navy 21 Marine and three USAAF pilots became aces As Edward M Young shows in many ways it was an uneven combat and on numerous occasions following these uneven contests American fighter pilots would return from combat having shot down up to six Japanese aeroplanes during a single mission US Navy

Ships vs Kamikazes 1944-45 Mark Stille, 2016-09-22 The ineffectiveness of conventional air attacks on US Navy surface ships particularly heavily defended targets like carrier task groups forced the Japanese to re evaluate their tactics in late 1944 The solution they arrived at was simple crash their aircraft into American ships This notion of self sacrifice fit well within the Japanese warrior psyche and proved terrifying to the American sailors subjected to it These tactics brought immediate results and proved effective until the end of the war This book examines this terrifying new way of waging war revealing how the US Navy was forced to adapt its tactics and deploy new weapons to counter the threat posed by kamikaze attacks as well as assessing whether the damage caused to American naval strength by the loss of so many pilots and aircraft actually had a material impact Aces Against Japan II Eric Hammel, 2020-12-05 ACES AGAINST JAPAN II The American Aces Speak Eric Hammel Leading combat historian Eric Hammel comes through again with an engrossing new collection of thirty eight first person accounts by American World War II fighter aces Coupled with a clear overview of America s far flung air war against Japan and a clear appreciation of the burgeoning industrial might backing the American war effort Hammel s detailed interviews bring forth the most thrilling in the cockpit experiences that World War II s fabled Army Navy Marine and Flying Tiger aces have chosen to tell Ride with 2d Lieutenant Jack Donalson as he downs three Zeros over Luzon on the second desperate day of World War II in the Philippines Share three lonely air battles over Burma and China with Flying Tiger aces RT Smith Dick Rossi and Joe Rosbert Hear the cry of victory as 2d Lieutenant Don McGee survives yet another encounter with Zeros over embattled Port Moresby New Guinea in his substandard P 39 Airacobra Feel your heart beat with anxiety as an injured Ensign Ed Wendorf races against time to land his damaged Hellcat aboard the USS Lexington before he bleeds to death And thrill to the hunt as Pearl Harbor veteran 1st Lieutenant Frank Holmes seeks personal revenge against Rielly, 2020-01-10 The untold story of ferocious air and naval combat during the WWII Battle of Okinawa drawn from primary sources and survivor interviews This is the story of an overlooked yet significant aerial and naval battle during the American assault on Okinawa in the spring of 1945 While losses to America's main fleet are well recorded less well known is the terrific battle waged on the radar picket line the fleet's outer defense against Japanese marauders Weaving together the experiences of the ships and their crews drawn from ship and aircraft action reports ship logs and personal interviews historian Robin L. Reilly recounts one of the most ferocious air and naval battles in history The US fleet and its accompanying airpower was so massive that the Japanese could only rely on suicide attacks to inflict critical damage Of the 206 ships that served on radar picket duty twenty nine percent were sunk or damaged by Japanese air attacks making theirs the most hazardous naval surface duty in World War II The great losses were largely due to relentless kamikaze attacks but also resulted from the improper use of support gunboats failure to establish land based radar at the earliest possible time the assignment of ships ill equipped for picket duty and as time went on crew fatigue US air cover during the battle is also described in full as squadrons dashed from their carriers and land bases to intercept the Japanese swarms resulting in constant melees over the fleet The American Aces Speak: Aces against Japan Eric M. The Kamikaze Campaign 1944-45 Mark Lardas,2022-05-26 An illustrated history of how Japan devised and launched a new kind of air campaign in late 1944 the suicidal assaults of the kamikaze units against the approaching Allied fleets As summer changed to autumn in 1944 Japan was losing the war Still unwilling to surrender Japan's last hope was to try to wear down US resolve enough to reach a negotiated settlement Extraordinary measures seemed necessary and the most extraordinary was the formation of Special Attack Units known to the Allies as the kamikazes The concept of organized suicide squadrons was first raised on June 15 1944 By August formations were being trained These formations were first used in the October 1944 US invasion of the Philippine Islands where they offered some tactical success The program was expanded into a major campaign over the rest of the Pacific War seeing a crescendo during the struggle for Okinawa in April through May 1945 This highly illustrated history examines not just the horrific missions themselves but the decisions behind the kamikaze campaign how it developed and how it became a key part of Japanese strategy Although the attacks started on an almost ad hoc basis the kamikaze soon became a major Japanese policy By the end of the war Japan was manufacturing aircraft specifically for kamikaze missions including a rocket powered manned missile A plan for a massive use of kamikazes to defend the Japanese Home Islands from invasion was developed but never executed because of Japan's surrender in August 1945 Packed with diagrams maps and 3D reconstructions of the attacks this book also assesses the Allied mitigation techniques and strategies and the reasons and the degree to which they were successful Hitler's and Hirohito's 'Kamikaze' Flying Bombs William Wolf, 2025-11-30

On 1 April 1945 US troops launched the largest amphibious assault of the Pacific War on the heavily defended island of Okinawa Supporting the invasion the USS West Virginia participated in the bombardment of entrenched Japanese defenders That evening a Japanese aircraft launched a Yokosuka MXY 7 Ohka a rocket powered kamikaze plane West Virginia was hit by an Ohka becoming the first ship damaged by such a weapon Twelve days later the USS Mannert L Able became the first ship sunk by an Ohka The deployment of the Ohka was a desperate measure by Japan as the war turned against them This manned flying bomb evolved from earlier kamikaze tactics However the Germans had also considered similar weapons As early as 1944 figures close to Hitler such as Otto Skorzeny and Hanna Reitsch advocated for kamikaze missions Hitler authorized the creation of the Leonidas Staffel to prepare for these attacks leading to the development of the Messerschmitt Me 328 and Fieseler Fi 103R also known as the Reichenberg Though the Fi 103R began production in October 1944 the changing dynamics of the war rendered it obsolete by the time it was ready for use The project was formally abandoned in March 1945 This book details the development of both the Ohka and Reichenberg F6F Hellcat Aces of VF-9 Edward M. Young, 2014-03-20

In the course of two combat tours VF 9 pilots shot down 250 Japanese aeroplanes and produced 20 aces VF 9 was activated in March 1942 as part of Carrier Air Group CAG 9 one of the many air groups the US Navy was hurriedly forming in the aftermath of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor Equipped with Grumman F4F Wildcats VF 9 first saw combat during the Allied invasion of North Africa in November 1942 where the squadron engaged Vichy French fighters over Morocco Returning to the United States VF 9 became one of the first squadrons to receive the Grumman F6F Hellcat and to deploy on the USS Essex the first of its class of fleet carriers that would form the backbone of the US Navy's Fast Carrier Task Force VF 9 the Hellcat and the Essex all entered combat in the fall of 1943 This book details how In the hands of the squadron's pilots and with other Navy fighter squadrons the Hellcat proved superior to the Imperial Japanese Navy's A6M Zero which had heretofore been the world's premier carrier fighter plane
