In the context of buoyant research on second language acquisition (SLA), language learning motivation has remained one of the most active fields of inquiry for more than 60 years (Al Hoorie & MacIntyre, 2019; Ushioda, 2019). Several books have approached this topic from a range of perspectives (e.g., Dörnyei & Ushioda, 2021; Lamb et al., 2019; MacIntyre & Al Hoorie, 2020). However, the seemingly unceasing theoretical and methodological innovation in motivation research can be confusing, and it has become increasingly overwhelming to keep abreast of all the latest advancements in this burgeoning field. In response to this “promising” yet “perplexing” situation, Ali H. Al Hoorie and Fruzsina Szabó have edited the volume Researching language learning motivation: A concise guide, presenting a timely guidebook for both students and novice researchers to navigate their way through the journey of language learning motivation.

Contributed by both established and emerging experts in the realm of second language (L2) motivation, the volume consists of 21 chapters subsumed under five

Review Language Learning:

Formative assessment in second language learning: a systematic review and an annotated bibliography Skevi Vassiliou, Salomi Papadima-Sophocleous, Christina Nicole Giannikas, 2022-11-21 Throughout its whole history most research conducted in language assessment refers to testing It is only since 2000 that language formative assessment started being recorded in research publications This book tells the story of language formative assessment in two ways the one complementing the other in the forms of a systematic review and a descriptive and evaluative annotated bibliography from the very first published work on the subject in 2000 to 2020 While the systematic review gives the story of language formative assessment in a chronological order and gives an overview of different aspects the annotated bibliography gives more details for research work published the main purposes of the book are to 1 give a substantial background in the area 2 describe how this topic has been approached 3 contribute to the development of critical thinking 4 help in establishing the relevance and quality of the annotated material and 5 facilitate language formative researchers as well as practitioners to form an overview of the research in the area during the specific period under study The book may be of interest to language practitioners researchers teacher trainers and policy makers The authors hope that the present publication will be viewed as a valuable contribution to the history of language formative assessment

Synthesizing Research on Language Learning and Teaching John Michael Norris, Lourdes Ortega, 2006-01-01 This volume presents the first collection of work on research synthesis in applied linguistics It introduces readers to a cutting edge approach for reviewing and summarizing exactly what accumulated research has to say about theoretical and practical subjects John Norris and Lourdes Ortega first elucidate the value and practice of synthesis and they challenge all members of the research community to adopt a synthetic ethic The book then features seven empirical syntheses each modeling rigorous synthetic practice in definitively reviewing the state of knowledge and research quality in important domains Included are five meta analyses on Universal Grammar Task Based Interaction Corrective Feedback Instructed Pragmatics Development and Reading Strategy Training Also included are a qualitative meta synthesis on Effective Teaching for English Language Learners and a historiographical synthesis of Proficiency Assessment practices Rounding out the collection are commentaries by two renowned experts in language learning and teaching research Nick Ellis and Craig Chaudron

Dialogue With Bakhtin on Second and Foreign Language Learning Joan Kelly Hall, Gergana Vitanova, Ludmila A. Marchenkova, 2004-12-13 This volume is the first to explore links between the Russian linguist Mikhail Bakhtin's theoretical insights about language and practical concerns with second and foreign language learning and teaching Situated within a strong conceptual framework and drawing from a rich empirical base it reflects recent scholarship in applied linguistics that has begun to move away from formalist views of language as universal autonomous linguistic systems and toward an understanding of language as dynamic collections of cultural resources According to Bakhtin the study of language is concerned with the dialogue existing between linguistic elements and the uses to which they are put in response to the conditions of the moment Such a view of language has significant implications for current understandings of second and foreign language learning The contributors draw on some of Bakhtin's more significant concepts such as dialogue utterance heteroglossia voice and addressivity to examine real world contexts of language learning The chapters address a range of contexts including elementary and university level English as a second language and foreign language classrooms and adult learning situations outside the formal classroom The text is arranged in two parts Part I Contexts of Language Learning and Teaching contains seven chapters that report on investigations into specific contexts of language learning and teaching The chapters in Part II Implications for Theory and Practice present broader discussions on second and foreign language learning using Bakhtin's ideas as a springboard for thinking This is a groundbreaking volume for scholars in applied linguistics language education and language studies with an interest in second and foreign language learning for teacher educators and for teachers of languages from elementary to university levels It is highly relevant as a text for graduate level courses in applied linguistics and second and foreign language education

Lifelong Motivation and Foreign Language Learning Bérénice Darnault, 2025-02-05 This book traces the motivational dynamics embedded within lifelong foreign language learning trajectories examining the factors which generate and sustain motivation throughout a learner's life Embracing a complexity approach it views motivation as a long term individual process that evolves along a narrative continuum developing over the course of life personal experiences choices and events This narrative inquiry delves into the captivating and unique experiences of three exceptionally motivated older adult learners who have embarked on a lifelong foreign language journey and maintained their momentum after 60 It will be relevant to researchers interested in third age language acquisition L2 motivation and the impact of additional language learning on wellbeing It also offers pedagogical guidance to optimise language education quality through better appreciation and anticipation of the autonomous third age learning experience

Effective Language Learning Suzanne Graham, 1997 This book investigates some of the learning processes of students of French and German as they begin language learning at an advanced level a stage which is frequently problematic By looking at the learning strategies employed by both successful and less successful language students the author elucidates some of the key cognitive and affective processes which facilitate advanced level language learning The implications of this for the classroom are discussed in detail leading to practical recommendations for learning and teaching strategies A central theme is the need to teach explicitly the proficient use of learning strategies and suggestions are made as to how this may be achieved in the language classroom

Electronic Discourse in Language Learning and Language Teaching Lee B. Abraham, Lawrence Williams, 2009-08-27 New technologies are constantly transforming traditional notions of language use and literacy in online communication environments While previous research has provided a foundation for understanding the use of new technologies in instructed second language environments few studies have investigated new literacies and electronic discourse beyond the classroom setting This volume seeks to address this gap by providing corpus based and empirical studies of electronic discourse analyzing social and linguistic variation as well as communicative practices in chat discussion forums blogs and podcasts Several chapters also examine the assessment and integration of new literacies This volume will serve as a valuable resource for researchers teachers and students interested in exploring electronic discourse and new literacies in language learning and teaching

Understanding EAP Learners' Beliefs about Language Learning from a Socio-cultural Perspective Chili Li, 2021-02-09 This book focuses on the dynamic nature of EAP English for academic purposes learners beliefs about language learning in their shift from an EFL English as a foreign language environment to an EMI English as the medium of instruction setting in mainland China It adopts a mixed method paradigm whose quantitative part aims to capture the general dynamic feature of the selected student population while its qualitative part attempts to unveil the process of change in beliefs about language learning among the sample It is hypothesized that the change in their beliefs about language learning is the result of the interplay between the learners agency and the mediation of the contextual realities at the institutional and social levels
