

Identifying the Mutation

Analyze the following:

- Substitution mutation: the change of one nucleotide in a sequence resulting in a silent mutation that has no impact on the amino acid sequence. Caused by the fact that single nucleotide mutation, at the codon level, can result in no change in the amino acid sequence or a synonymous mutation.
- Insertion mutation: the addition of one or more nucleotides into a sequence.
- Deletion mutation: a chromosome rearrangement which is a removal of a chromosome segment, usually at the end.
- Translocation: a chromosome rearrangement caused by exchange between different non-homologous chromosomes.
- Termination: failure of a stop codon resulting in a premature stop codon.
- Duplication: a DNA sequence is repeated twice or more.
- Point mutation: a mutation affecting only one or two base pairs resulting in a silent mutation.
- Indel mutation: a mutation that inserts or deletes one or more base pairs.
- Frameshift: a genetic mutation caused by insertion or deletion of a number of nucleotides that is not a multiple of three, causing a shift in the reading frame.

Instructions: use a strategy that involves an a comparison of the original sequence with the mutated sequence. Look for changes in the sequence that indicate a mutation. Use the following table to identify the type of mutation.
