protracted exile within a broader constellation of power relations both historical and geographical the authors present research and empirical findings gleaned from refugees in Iran Kenya and Canada and from humanitarian and government workers Each chapter reveals patterns of power circulating through the colonial present Cold War legacies and the global war on terror Seeking to render legible the more quotidian struggles and livelihoods of people who find themselves defined as refugees this book will be of great interest to international humanitarian agencies as well as migration and refugee researchers including scholars in refugee studies and human displacement human security globalization immigration and human rights
