Tourism Spaces Alan A. Lew, 2021-07-19 Geographic space is a fundamental and essential construct of the physical reality within which we live move and construct our world Through space we create others anything that is any distance from us and we experience time by moving from one place point to another Because it is so fundamental to our experience we often take geographic space for granted Tourism Spaces Environments Locations and Movements shows some of the ways that geographers and other social scientists bring spatial considerations to the forefront of our research and understanding of tourism This is seen through the spatial arrangements and distributions of tourism phenomena such as attractions destinations and in the spatial behaviour of tourists themselves Today these spatial arrangements and patterns are increasingly being captured analysed and understood through various forms of formal and informal digital data The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Tourism Geographies
