Whose School Is It? Rhoda H. Halperin, 2010-01-01 Whose School Is It? Women Children Memory and Practice in the City is a success story with roadblocks crashes and detours Rhoda Halperin uses feminist theorist and activist Gloria Anzald's ideas about borderlands created by colliding cultures to deconstruct the creation and advancement of a public community charter school in a diverse long lived urban neighborhood on the Ohio River Class race and gender mix with age local knowledge and place authenticity to create a page turning story of grit humor and sheer stubbornness The school has grown and flourished in the face of daunting market forces class discrimination and an increasingly unfavorable national climate for charter schools Borderlands are tense spaces The school is a microcosm of the global city Many theoretical strands converge in this book feminist theory ideas about globalization class analysis and accessible narrative writing to present some new approaches in urban anthropology The book is multi voiced and nuanced in ways that provide authenticity and texture to the real circumstances of urban lives At the same time identities are threatened as community practices clash with rules and regulations imposed by outsiders Since it is based on fifteen years of ethnographic fieldwork in the community and the city Whose School Is It? brings unique long term perspectives on continuities and disjunctures in cities Halperin's work as researcher and advocate also provides insider perspectives that are rare in the literature of urban anthropology

Nurturing Creativity in the Classroom Karen Hosack Janes, 2025-02-28 A must for all classroom teachers and those training to teach this book explores the nature of creativity with ideas and practical strategies for nurturing pupils creative skills in primary and secondary schools It offers a detailed exploration of pedagogy that nurtures creativity specifically examining the concept of creative agency by looking at how individuals are encouraged to develop their own skills of imagination innovation and collaboration Accounts from people well known for being creative provide a lens through which to critically examine a variety of theoretical frameworks published creative education checklists and other relevant research and case studies demonstrating creative pedagogical practices The book thus draws together consensus from multiple perspectives about the conditions most effective for nurturing creativity This practical theorising approach will help professionals in educational settings engage in critical enquiry about teaching for creativity while reflective questions encourage the reader to explore their own perceptions and practice

Brothers and Sisters in Adoption Arleta James, 2012-02-15 What about the kids already there How do they do when a child with a challenging past joins a family by adoption When experienced parents decide to adopt an older child or a sibling group they jump through all kinds of bureaucratic hoops background checks interviews group meetings reading assignments classes etc But most often the typically developing children these adults are already parenting whether through birth or adoption are left out of the process informed that a new kid is coming and simply expected to adjust to the addition of another sibling The addition of a child with a history of neglect or trauma cannot be a seamless transition The expectations of everyone involved parents new siblings and yes professionals facilitating the adoption must be realistic taking into account that the new child will need special attention that may take away time and attention from the already resident kids that family life is likely to be turned topsy turvy until appropriate counseling and support are in place that relationships will change Therapist Arleta James is certainly not the first person to recognize this but she is the first to do something about it Brothers and Sisters in Adoption offers insights and examples and sturdy practical proven tools for helping newly configured families prepare accept react and mobilize to become a new and different family meeting the practical physical and emotional needs of all its members These well prepared and supported families are the ones who thrive

Children Who Survived a School Shooting and Chose to Teach Michelle Markert-Porter, 2025-09-22 Written from the first person perspective of a Columbine shooting survivor this book documents the experiences of a group of school shooting survivors who went on to become teachers More than 25 years after the shooting on April 20 1999 at Columbine High School the policies and practices in place to prevent school shootings do not seem to be working In fact school shootings have increased since 1999 and continue to increase Through a phenomenological study of the author s own experiences as well as 11 other Columbine survivors who went on to become teachers this book examines how surviving a school shooting has impacted every aspect of their personal and professional lives The participants offer ideas and suggestions on how to decrease school shootings sharing candid stories about bullying at Columbine as well as the ways that teachers helped save their lives on the day of the shooting and their views on the idea of arming teachers The book concludes with recommendations for survivor informed best practices for US schools adding an essential and often overlooked perspective to the debate around making teachers responsible for preventing school shootings A forward looking and unique addition to the conversation about school shootings this book is an essential resource for researchers faculty scholars and post graduate students with interests in education criminology school shootings restorative justice trauma studies suicide prevention and bullying
