across the global financial markets That is how risk and uncertainty change according to factors such as market states or market participants In Chapter 2 which is entitled Momentum Uncertainties the relationship between macroeconomic uncertainty and the abnormal returns of a momentum trading strategy in the stock market is studied We show that high levels of uncertainty in the economy impact negatively and significantly the returns of a portfolio of stocks that consist of buying past winners and selling past losers High uncertainty reduces below zero the abnormal returns of momentum extinguishes the Sharpe ratio of the momentum strategy while increases the probability of momentum crashes both by increasing the skewness and the kurtosis of the momentum return distribution Uncertainty acts as an economic regime that underlies abrupt changes over time of the returns generated by momentum strategies In Chapter 3 Measuring Uncertainty in the Stock Market a new index for measuring stock market uncertainty on a daily basis is proposed The index considers the inherent differentiation between uncertainty and the common variations between the series The second contribution of chapter 3 is to show how this financial uncertainty index can also serve as an indicator of macroeconomic uncertainty Finally the dynamic relationship between uncertainty and the series of consumption interest rates production and stock market prices among others is analyzed In chapter 4 Uncertainty Systemic Shocks and the Global Banking Sector Has the Crisis Modified their Relationship we explore the stability of systemic risk and uncertainty propagation among financial institutions in the global economy and show that it has remained stable over the last decade Additionally a new simple tool for measuring the resilience of financial institutions to these systemic shocks is provided We examine the characteristics and stability of systemic risk and uncertainty in relation to the dynamics of the banking sector stock returns This sort of evidence is supportive of past claims made in the field of macroeconomics which hold that during the global financial crisis the financial system may have faced stronger versions of traditional shocks rather than a new type of shock In chapter 5 Currency downside risk liquidity and financial stability downside risk propagation across global currency markets and the ways in which it is related to liquidity is analyzed Two primary contributions to the literature follow First tail spillovers between currencies in the global FX market are estimated This index is easy to build and does not require intraday data which constitutes an important advantage Second we show that turnover is related to risk spillovers in global currency markets Chapter 6 is entitled Spillovers from the United States to Latin American and G7 Stock Markets A VAR Quantile Analysis This chapter contributes to the studies of contagion market integration and cross border spillovers during both regular and crisis episodes by carrying out a multivariate quantile analysis It focuses on Latin American stock markets which have been characterized by a highly positive dynamic in recent decades in terms of market capitalization and liquidity ratios after a far reaching process of market liberalization and reforms to pension funds across the continent during the 80s and 90s We document smaller dependences between the LA markets and the US market than those between the US and the developed economies especially in the highest and lowest quantiles

ICEL2015-10th International Conference on e-Learning Dr

Carlton Watson, 2015-06-12 These proceedings represent the work of researchers participating in the 10th International Conference on e Learning ICEL 2015 which is being hosted this year by the College of the Bahamas Nassau on the 25-26 June 2015. ICEL is a recognised event on the International research conferences calendar and provides a valuable platform for individuals to present their research findings, display their work in progress and discuss conceptual advances in the area of e Learning. It provides an important opportunity for researchers and managers to come together with peers to share their experiences of using the varied and expanding range of e Learning available to them. With an initial submission of 91 abstracts, after the double-blind peer review process, there are 41 academic Research papers and 2 PhD papers. Research papers published in these Conference Proceedings. These papers come from some many different countries including Australia, Belgium, Brazil, Canada, China, Germany, Greece, Hong Kong, Malaysia, Portugal, Republic of Macedonia, Romania, Slovakia, South Africa, Sweden, United Arab Emirates, UK and the USA. A selection of the best papers, those agreed by a panel of reviewers and the editor, will be published in a conference edition of EJEL, the Electronic Journal of e Learning (www.ejel.com). These will be chosen for their quality of writing and relevance to the Journal's objective of publishing papers that offer new insights or practical help into the application of e Learning.

Educart NEET 37 Years Biology Solved Papers (PYQs)

Chapterwise and Topicwise for NEET 2025 Exam Educart, Dr. Rakshita Singh, 2024-07-25 Economics and Climate Emergency Barry Gills, Jamie Morgan, 2022-08-22 This book explores a series of connected themes focused on the role economics and other influential forms of theory and thinking have played in creating the current predicament and the scope for alternatives and how they might be framed. Thirty years have passed since the inception of the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change (UNFCCC) and the beginning of policy on climate change. Thirty wasted years. To most politicians, long-term collective interest has been denominated in meaningless units of time: a never and a forever that has continually delayed action. From complacency has come potential disaster and we are now living in a time of climate emergency and ecological breakdown. The next decade is a pivotal period requiring fundamental change. But numerous impediments remain. Continual material energy and economic growth on a planetary scale are manifestly impossible and yet economic theory takes these as a given and political leadership and policy seem unwilling to accept brute reality. Instead, they offer a series of implausible commitments and pledges rooted in technofixes without addressing the fundamental drivers of the problems the world faces. The edited volume explores the issues and offers a variety of ways to think through the problems at hand, from postgrowth, degrowth and social ecological economics to policy assemblage and transversalism. The chapters in this book were originally published in the journal Globalizations.

Making Policy for the New Information Economy Krishna Prasad Jayakar, Chun Liu, 2023-09-10 This volume is a theoretically informed comparative analysis of the telecommunications and information policy-making process in two major developing economies, China and India. With a focus on how policies are made rather than what those policies are, the book investigates how policy actors interact within institutional structures to define policy problems and identify potential solutions The authors explain the evolution of these policy making systems as the two countries liberalized their economies and opened their media and telecommunications systems to competition over the past two and a half decades With applications in numerous international contexts this book will be of interest to scholars and practitioners in public policy studies telecommunications business development economics political science Asian studies and public administration
