Vegetation-based Degradation and Restoration on the Alpine Grasslands of the Tibetan Plateau Yanfu Bai,Yujie Niu ,Sergio Rossi,2024-08-13 Known as the roof of the world the Tibetan Plateau is the highest and largest plateau on Earth Tibetan Plateau hosts several mountain ecosystems characterized by high elevations cold conditions and a wide range in water availability Its unique physical and geographical environment includes ecosystems typical for alpine regions classified as alpine grasslands which account for 50 70% of the total land area of the Tibetan plateau Most of these grasslands contain fragile tundra like environments which are seriously affected by anthropogenic modifications and whose restoration presents a challenge These natural grassland types include alpine deserts alpine steppes alpine meadows and alpine swamp meadows along precipitation gradients as well as the transition types between them Alpine grasslands remain subject to severe degradation by multiple factors mainly overgrazing and climate warming As a result grasslands exhibit a decreased capacity to support biodiversity and complexity and more generally ecosystem functions Therefore these changes also affect social and recreational activities and restrict access to clean water and food by local communities

Forging Ties, Forging Passports Devi Mays,2020-08-25 Forging Ties Forging Passports is a history of migration and nation building from the vantage point of those who lived between states Devi Mays traces the histories of Ottoman Sephardi Jews who emigrated to the Americas and especially to Mexico in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries and the complex relationships they maintained to legal documentation as they migrated and settled into new homes Mays considers the shifting notions of belonging nationality and citizenship through the stories of individual women men and families who navigated these transitions in their everyday lives as well as through the paperwork they carried In the aftermath of World War I and the Mexican Revolution migrants traversed new layers of bureaucracy and authority amid shifting political regimes as they crossed and were crossed by borders Ottoman Sephardi migrants in Mexico resisted unequivocal classification as either Ottoman expatriates or Mexicans through their links to the Sephardi diaspora in formerly Ottoman lands France Cuba and the United States By making use of commercial and familial networks these Sephardi migrants maintained a geographic and social mobility that challenged the physical borders of the state and the conceptual boundaries of the nation

Towards greener urbanization: Resource environmental effects and sustainable land use Guanghui Jiang,Yanbo Qu,Wenqiu Ma,Dingyang Zhou,2023-04-11 Global Land Use Intensity Change and Its Impact on Food Security Xueru Zhang, Wei Song, Jinmei Lu, Basanta Paudel,Q. Yuan,2025-09-18 Food security is an important guarantee for world peace and development and has a bearing on the sustainable development and future destiny of humankind The 2023 State of Food Security and Nutrition in the World report released by the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations FAO shows that between 691 and 783 million people worldwide were hungry in 2022 Although the increase in the number of hungry people in the world has slowed down there are still many regions of the world that are sinking deeper into the food crisis If left unchecked the world will not be on track to meet the Sustainable Development Goal of eradicating hunger by 2030 Food security continues to be a global challenge Food security is based on the food system and when the food system is under stress the level of food security is reduced This stress comes from a variety of factors including land use change Land use change and its impacts have become a hotspot and frontier of global change research With the development of human society the structure depth and intensity of land use are constantly changing which directly affects the issue of food security

There is a close relationship between regional food security and land use change This Research Topic focuses on land use intensity change and its implications for food security
