From Agriculture Genome to Phenome: Genome-Wide Association, Prediction and Selection Kefei Chen,Li Ma,2023-12-11 The advances in omics technologies have enabled unprecedented progress in agricultural and biological sciences The synergy of high performance computing high throughput omics approaches and high dimensional phenotyping data with high spatial and temporal resolution have demonstrated the capacity to enhance our understanding of biological mechanisms but also to provide powerful insights into dissecting the genetic basis of complex traits with agricultural and economical importance Genome wide association study GWAS has become a useful approach to identify mutations that underlie diseases and complex traits and has provided important insights in exploring genetic profiles However it is less suitable for quantitative traits influenced by a large number of genes with small effects In addition false discoveries are a major concern and can be partially attributed to population structure Genomic selection holds the promise to overcome the limitations by using whole genome information to predict the genetic merits of phenotypes It has been a powerful tool for predicting the breeding values of candidates for selection in breeding populations One of the challenges of genomic prediction of breeding values with large p with small n regressions is to develop robust and efficient approaches that accurately predict phenotypic traits as functions of genotypic and environmental inputs In addition the integration of multi omics data in phenotypic prediction would offer the opportunity to understand the flow of information that underlies the phenotypic traits Leading Modern Learning Jay McTighe,Greg Curtis,2019-07-08 Redesign education to meet the needs of 21st century students In the second edition of Leading Modern Learning authors Jay McTighe and Greg Curtis outline a reworked version of their

The Rise and Fall of Civic Education Michael Learn, 2024-09-16 Social studies is a field in crisis The crisis stems from failure to establish the very foundation of social studies purpose in public education civic education Social studies advocates have never put forth a coherent method for teaching civic education because policymakers and the public have been unable to agree upon a general definition of civic education This issue has disrupted the field since the early days As educators sought to include civic education within public schools as a dedicated field social studies evolved into a blending of history social sciences and civic education Social studies evolution never resolved the differences between the three with each discipline striving to control the narrative Instead of creating a unified field the disciplines devalued social studies and thus any discipline associated with it The Rise and Fall of Civic Education The Battle for Social Studies in a Shifting Historical Landscape investigates the changing definitions and purposes ascribed to social studies in the United States through time This result is viewed through the rising tensions from culture wars as America's divisive politics fight to control the narrative of the disciplines within social studies

The Political Economy of Financial Development in Malaysia Lena Rethel, 2020-12-20 Current inquiries into the political economy of financial policymaking in Malaysia tend to focus on the high level drama of crisis politics or simply point to the limited impact of post crisis financial reforms given that

politico business relations have remained close In so doing pundits ignore a number of intriguing questions what is the relationship between financial development and financialisation and how has it played out in the Malaysian context And more generally how can a country like Malaysia become significantly more financially developed yet fail to emancipate the financial system from political control a core element of the financial development discourse To unravel the complexities of this puzzle this book subjects the history and contemporary practices of financial policymaking in Malaysia to scrutiny It argues that to understand financial development in Malaysia its progress and reversals it is important to conceptualise it as a political rather than a merely technical process In so doing the book echoes a more profound concern in the political economy literature namely the evolving relationship between states and markets and the supposed retreat or reassertion of the state at a time of increasing financial globalisation The book can generate further insights into the evolving role of the state with regard to broader processes of development and marketisation as they relate specifically to finance
