Capturing Social and Behavioral Domains and Measures in Electronic Health Records Institute of Medicine, Board on Population Health and Public Health Practice, Committee on the Recommended Social and Behavioral Domains and Measures for Electronic Health Records, 2015-01-08

Determinants of health like physical activity levels and living conditions have traditionally been the concern of public health and have not been linked closely to clinical practice However if standardized social and behavioral data can be incorporated into patient electronic health records EHRs those data can provide crucial information about factors that influence health and the effectiveness of treatment Such information is useful for diagnosis treatment choices policy health care system design and innovations to improve health outcomes and reduce health care costs

Capturing Social and Behavioral Domains and Measures in Electronic Health Records Phase 2 identifies domains and measures that capture the social determinants of health to inform the development of recommendations for the meaningful use of EHRs This report is the second part of a two part study The Phase 1 report identified 17 domains for inclusion in EHRs This report pinpoints 12 measures related to 11 of the initial domains and considers the implications of incorporating them into all EHRs This book includes three chapters from the Phase 1 report in addition to the new Phase 2 material

Standardized use of EHRs that include social and behavioral domains could provide better patient care improve population health and enable more informative research The recommendations of Capturing Social and Behavioral Domains and Measures in Electronic Health Records Phase 2 will provide valuable information on which to base problem identification clinical diagnoses patient treatment outcomes assessment and population health measurement

Who Gets In? Rebecca Zwick, 2017-05-15 On the disputed topic of U S college admissions everyone agrees that this high stakes competition is unfair But few agree on what a fair process would be Stressing transparency in evaluating applicants Rebecca Zwick assesses the goals and criteria of different admissions policies and shows how they can fail to produce the desired results

Comprehensive School Physical Activity Programs Russell Carson, Collin A. Webster, 2019-03-12 Schools are the ideal place to promote and apply the recommended accumulation of 60 minutes of daily physical activity But until now it has been difficult to bridge the gap between research in this area and day to day practice in order to establish solid programs That's where Comprehensive School Physical Activity Programs Putting Research Into Evidence Based Practice comes in

CSPAP Model Brought to Life The comprehensive school physical activity program CSPAP model originally outlined as a 2008 position statement by the National Association for Sport and Physical Education to promote physical activity throughout K 12 is brought to life through this comprehensive all in one resource In the decade since that position statement CSPAP has been spreading through numerous initiatives which have mobilized a CSPAP field of study and a national framework for physical activity and physical education CSPAP acts as a hub supporting physical activity through multiple components that can include physical education physical activity before during and after school staff involvement and family and community engagement Moreover each CSPAP component can serve to strengthen and reinforce the academic goals of physical education Accommodates Needs of Diverse Audiences Comprehensive School Physical Activity Programs published in association with SHAPE America accommodates the growing needs of academic researchers school practitioners district coordinators educators advocates organizations university faculty and students who want to learn more about CSPAP or undertake ways to increase daily physical activity opportunities in and around schools The Text s Strengths This text does all of the following and more Synthesizes all the foundational and emerging research theory and practice on CSPAP Synthesizes all the foundational and emerging research theory and practice on CSPAP Provides a higher and deeper level look at the CSPAP model as opposed to short reports and position papers which contain limited strategies for schools Offers much more in depth coverage of the CSPAP model by delving into assessment evaluation advocacy policy partnerships international perspectives technology and more Diverse and Renowned Team of Contributors Comprehensive School Physical Activity Programs was written by a diverse team of pioneers and leaders in the CSPAP field This team brings national and international perspectives on all aspects related to implementing and maintaining CSPAP in K 12 schools These recognized experts provide incisive guidance in and understanding of the most prominent concepts issues and developments in the field Book Organization The text is organized into six sections Part I provides the historical and foundational perspectives and policy landscapes of the CSPAP approach Part II outlines internal external and psychological factors to consider in program design implementation and sustainability In part III the contributors examine and interpret the research on the effectiveness of established programs and previous interventions Part IV highlights special considerations for effective programming within urban and rural settings reviews current and ongoing international CSPAP initiatives and addresses the application of the model to alternative contexts beyond the K 12 school setting In part V the contributors focus on using assessments to determine the physical activity promotion needs of a school community on the instruments and procedures for measuring school wide programming and on the processes for evaluating and advocating for CSPAPs Part VI examines current reform efforts within preprofessional programs in teacher education reviews the tools and future potential for using technology to deliver and assess CSPAP efforts and looks at future directions for the disciplines of study that inform the CSPAP knowledge base Each chapter uses a format that opens with a review of current research offers knowledge claims based on the research notes knowledge gaps and directions for future research offers evidence based recommendations and applications and concludes with questions to consider for discussion and case

examples to demonstrate the practical recommendations An Invaluable Resource The rapid growth of the field and the increasing number of diverse and exceptional scholars many of whom are contributors to this book are indications of the need for this resource Comprehensive School Physical Activity Programs offers unique perspectives about how to generate and sustain successful initiatives to increase youth physical activity and promote long term engagement in active behavior It provides access to leading thought invaluable tools and challenging questions that will propel the CSPAP field to its next level of depth and clarity Human Kinetics is proud to publish this book in association with SHAPE America the national organization that defines excellence for school based health and physical education professionals across the United States

Excellence Gaps in Education Jonathan A. Plucker, Scott J. Peters, 2020-01-15 2017 Texas Association for Gifted and Talented Legacy Scholar Book Award 2017 National Association of Gifted Children Scholar Book of the Year Award In Excellence Gaps in Education Jonathan A Plucker and Scott J Peters shine a spotlight on excellence gaps the achievement gaps among subgroups of students performing at the highest levels of achievement Much of the focus of recent education reform has been on closing gaps in achievement between students from different racial ethnic or socioeconomic backgrounds by bringing all students up to minimum levels of proficiency Yet issues related to excellence gaps have been largely absent from discussions about how to improve our schools and communities Plucker and Peters argue that these significant gaps reflect the existence of a persistent talent underclass in the United States among African American Hispanic Native American and poor students resulting in an incalculable loss of potential among our fastest growing populations Drawing on the latest research and a wide range of national and international data the authors outline the scope of the problem and make the case that excellence gaps should be targeted for elimination They identify promising interventions for talent development already underway in schools and provide a detailed review of potential strategies including universal screening flexible grouping targeted programs and psychosocial interventions Excellence Gaps in Education has the potential for changing our national conversation about equity and excellence and bringing fresh attention to the needs of high potential students from underrepresented backgrounds

Leapfrogging Africa Reiner Klingholz, Sabine Sütterlin, Alisa Kaps, Catherina Hinz, 2020-10-15 In this study we look at the potential for development leaps in Africa in three key sectors that provided the basis for socioeconomic development around the world health education and agriculture Advances in these sectors increase the human capital create jobs and economic opportunities and have a positive influence on each other Healthy and well fed children can learn better hygiene and better medical care diminish infant mortality which reduces the desire for a large number of children education for women promotes gender equality and causes birth rates to fall further This creates a population structure under which the economy can grow particularly well a demographic dividend becomes possible

Executive Function and Education Mariëtte Huizinga,Dieter Baeyens,Jacob A. Burack,2018-09-21 Executive function is an umbrella term for various cognitive processes that are central to goal directed behavior thoughts and emotions These processes are especially important in novel or demanding situations which require a rapid and flexible adjustment of behavior to the changing demands of the environment The development of executive function relies on the maturation of associated brain regions as well as on stimulation in the child's social contexts especially the home and school Over the past decade the term executive function has become a buzzword in the field of education as both researchers and educators underscore the importance of skills like goal setting planning and organizing in academic success Accordingly in initiating this Research Topic and eBook our goal was to provide a forum for state of the art theoretical and empirical work on this that both facilitates communication among researchers from diverse fields and provides a theoretically sound source of information for educators The contributors to this volume who hail from several different countries in Europe and North America have certainly accomplished this goal in their nuanced and cutting edge depictions of the complex links among various executive function components and educational success

Health Promotion in the Universities and Other Educational Settings Miguel Corbí,Antoni Aguilo,Carmen Gallardo Pino,Mario Del Líbano ,Carlos Emanuel Rodriguez-Diaz,Hiram V. Arroyo Acevedo,2025-09-17 The promotion of health in universities is of great importance as it allows for the encouragement of healthy lifestyles and the prevention of diseases among students teaching staff and administrative personnel The university is a conducive environment for the promotion of healthy habits since firstly it is usually the moment when the students make decisions under their responsibility and secondly it is a place where academic sports and social activities take place so it is also an ideal moment to promote changes that can be transferred to society and the rest of the individual's life Health promotion in universities can cover several areas such as healthy eating physical exercise prevention of addictions emotional and social mental health among others It can also involve the entire university community from students to administrative and teaching staff In the case of students it is essential as it is a period of change and habit formation and the fact that they will be the future decision makers of society

Positive Youth Development, Mental Health, and Psychological Well-Being in Diverse Youth Nora Wiium, Laura Ferrer-Wreder, Jennifer E. Lansford, Lene Arnett Jensen, 2023-06-15

In this Research Topic our aim is to examine how personal resources related to competencies skills and self perception as well as environmental contextual and relational features of the social contexts of diverse youth directly or indirectly are important to mental health and psychological well being As previous research on young people has mainly focused on youth s weaknesses rather than their strengths our use of Positive Youth Development PYD in working with culturally diverse youth and their well being in this Research Topic is novel We invite contributions from researchers that were initially presented their papers in a meeting that was held by research partners of the Cross National Project on Positive Youth Development CN PYD and who represent an international and multidisciplinary panel of experts on PYD The CN PYD was initiated in 2014 at the University of Bergen and has an ongoing data collection that involves approximately 10 000 minority and majority youth and emerging adults ages 16 to 29 living in Africa Asia Australia Europe New Zealand and South America CN PYD uses a strengths based approach to the conceptualization of youth as resources and agentic which is in opposition to the view of the developmental period of adolescence as being a period inherently fraught with problems and risks The goal of the cross national project is to assess personal strengths and contextual resources considering how these resources come together to facilitate youth thriving and to document how young people make positive and valued contributions to themselves and others We also advance research on the complex interplay between personal and contextual resources and their connections with risk behaviors and problems in essence taking a perspective of the whole child both in terms of strengths and problems
