Strategic Planning for Public Relations Ronald D. Smith, 2013-01-04 This innovative and popular text provides a clear pathway to developing public relations campaigns and other types of strategic communication. Implementing the pragmatic in depth approach of the previous editions, author Ronald D. Smith presents a step by step unfolding of the strategic campaign process used in public relations practice. Drawing from his experience in professional practice and in the classroom, Smith walks readers through the critical steps for the formative research, strategic and tactical planning and plan evaluation phases of the process. Offering clear explanations, relevant examples and practical exercises, this text identifies and discusses the decision points and options in the development of a communication program. The cases and examples included here explore classic real world public relations situations as well as current timely events. This fourth edition highlights the results of new research studies on opinions and practices within the discipline and adds overviews of several award winning public relations campaigns. As a classroom text or a resource for professional practice, this volume provides a model that can be adapted to fit specific circumstances and used to improve effectiveness and creativity in communication planning. It serves as an accessible and understandable guide to field tested procedures, offering practical insights that apply to public relations campaigns and case studies coursework.

Marketing and Public Relations for Museums, Galleries, Cultural and Heritage Attractions Ylva French, Sue Runyard, 2011-06-09

Visitors to museums, galleries, heritage sites and other not for profit attractions receive their information in changing ways. Communications channels are shifting and developing all the time, presenting new challenges to cultural PR and Marketing teams. Marketing and Public Relations for Museums, Galleries, Cultural and Heritage Attractions as well as providing some of the theory of marketing, provides the latest available case studies coupled with comments and advice from professionals inside and outside the cultural sector to describe the possibilities and outline strategies for the future. A strong theme of change runs through each chapter. The economic climate is already affecting the publicly funded sectors and business and private sponsorship. How will it change over the next few years? The print media is contracting, reading and viewing patterns are changing as online and mobile media grow. What are the trends here in Europe, US and elsewhere? Sustainability and global warming are not just buzz words but will have a real impact on public and private institutions and their visitor patterns. Population patterns are also changing with new immigrants arriving and the proportion of over 60s increases in Western countries. Cultural tourism has enjoyed a great surge in popularity and huge investments are being made in museums, galleries and events. Marketing and PR play a crucial role in the success of such ventures and will be illustrated with case studies from the UK, US, Canada, Australia, Middle East and China. Marketing and Public Relations for Museums, Galleries, Cultural and Heritage Attractions is aimed at students of marketing, museums, culture and heritage as well as professionals working in a range of cultural organisations from small to large and at different stages of market development from new entrants to those offering mature products. This includes museums, galleries, heritage and visitor attractions, community organisations as well as organisers of festivals, markets, craft fairs and temporary exhibitions.
