Samways, 2019-12-02 Insects do not live in isolation They interact with the abiotic environment and are major components of the terrestrial and freshwater biotic milieus They are crucial to so many ecosystem processes and are the warp and weft of all terrestrial and freshwater ecosystems that are not permanently frozen This means that insect conservation is a two way process insects as the subjects of conservation while also they are useful tools for conserving the environment This book overviews strategic ways forward for insect conservation It is a general view of what has worked and what has not for the maintenance of insect diversity across the world as well as what might be the right approaches for the future Additions
