Kotelnikova, 2022-07-07 The Ambivalence of Power in the Twenty First Century Economy contributes to the understanding of the ambivalent nature of power oscillating between conflict and cooperation public and private global and local formal and informal and does so from an empirical perspective It offers a collection of country based cases as well as critically assesses the existing conceptions of power from a cross disciplinary perspective The diverse analyses of power at the macro meso or micro levels allow the volume to highlight the complexity of political economy in the twenty first century Each chapter addresses key elements of that political economy from the ambivalence of the cases of former communist countries that do not conform with the grand narratives about democracy and markets to the dual utility of new technologies such as face recognition thus providing mounting evidence for the centrality of an understanding of ambivalence in the analysis of power especially in the modern state power driven capitalism Anchored in economic sociology and political economy this volume aims to make visible the dimensions of power embedded in economic practices The chapters are predominantly based on post communist practices but this divergent experience is relevant to comparative studies of how power and economy are interrelated Government for the Public Good Max Rashbrooke, 2018-09-26 In a time of global political ferment established ideas are coming under renewed scrutiny Chief among them is one of the dominant notions of our era that we should entrust markets with many of the tasks previously carried out by government In this wide ranging book Max

Rashbrooke goes beyond anecdote and partisanship delving deep into the latest research about the sweeping changes made to the public services that shape our collective lives What he unearths is startling it challenges established thinking on the effectiveness of market based reforms and charts a new form of deep democracy for the twenty first century Refreshing and far sighted this stimulating book offers New Zealanders a new way of thinking about government and how it can navigate the turbulent world ahead The market is often not the solution to our problems Markets have often been the problem Max Rashbrooke makes the convincing case for models of government that work better as well as those to be more wary of Greater democracy can bring with it greater equality but Rashbrooke warns democracy itself is imperilled by our current levels of inequality Fast paced globally informed and wittily written Professor Danny Dorling Oxford University This book provides a wide range of excellent evidence based arguments that help counter the oft dominant small government ideology of our times Its defence of democracy government and voter competence is a story that needs to be told more Laura O Connell Rapira Director of ActionStation

Objects and Frontiers in Modern Asia Lipokmar Dzüvichü, Manjeet Baruah, 2019-03-06 Focusing on the geographies between the Mekong and the Indus this book brings objects to the centre of enquiry in the understanding of modern Asian frontiers It explores how a range of objects have historically been significant bearers and agents of frontier making For instance how are objects connected to aspects of state making social change everyday life diplomacy political and ecological worlds capital forms of violence resistances circulations and aesthetic expressions This book seeks to interrogate and understand the dynamism of frontiers from the vantage point of objects such as salt rubber tea guns silk scarves horses and opium It attempts to explore objects as sites of encounter mediation or dislocation between the social and the spatial The book not only locates objects in the specificities of frontier spaces but it also looks at how they are produced circulated and come to be intricately linked to a wide range of people institutions networks and geographies In the process it explores how objects traverse and come to inhabit multiple historical cultural and geographical scales This book will be of interest to researchers and academics working in areas of history social and cultural anthropology Asian studies frontiers and borderland studies cultural studies political and economic studies and museum studies

Measuring International Authority Liesbet Hooghe, 2017 This is the third of five ambitious volumes theorizing the structure of governance above and below the central state This book is written for those interested in the character causes and consequences of governance within the state This book sets out a measure of authority for seventy six international organizations IOs from 1950 or the time of their establishment to 2010 which can allow researchers to test expectations about the character sources and consequences of international governance The international organizations considered are regional e.g. the EU Andean Community NAFTA cross regional e.g. Commonwealth of Nations the Organization of Islamic Cooperation and global e.g. the UN World Bank WTO Firstly the book introduces carefully constructed estimates for the scope and depth of authority exercised by international governments The estimates are unique in their comparative scope their specificity and time span Secondly it describes describe broad trends in IO authority by comparing delegation and pooling over time across IOs and across decision areas

Thirdly it presents the evidence gathered by the authors to estimate international authority by carefully discussing forty seven international organizations and showing how their bodies are composed what decisions each body makes and how they make decisions Transformations in Governance is a major new academic book series from Oxford University Press It is designed to accommodate the impressive growth of research in comparative politics international relations public policy federalism environmental and urban studies concerned with the dispersion of authority from central states up to supranational institutions down to subnational governments and side ways to public private networks It brings together work that significantly advances our understanding of the organization causes and consequences of multilevel and complex governance The series is selective containing annually a small number of books of exceptionally high quality by leading and emerging scholars The series targets mainly single authored or co authored work but it is pluralistic in terms of disciplinary specialization research design method and geographical scope Case studies as well as comparative studies historical as well as contemporary studies and studies with a national regional or international focus are all central to its aims Authors use qualitative quantitative formal modeling or mixed methods A trade mark of the books is that they combine scholarly rigour with readable prose and an attractive production style The series is edited by Liesbet Hooghe and Gary Marks of the University of North Carolina Chapel Hill and Walter Mattli of the University of Oxford

Patterson, 2020-03-02 This book builds on the highly successful Geography of Beer Regions Environment and Society 2014 and investigates the geography of beer from two expanded perspectives culture and economics The respective chapters provide case studies that illustrate various aspects of these themes As the beer industry continues to reinvent itself and its economic and cultural geographies this book showcases historical current and future trends at the local regional national and international scales

Against the World Tara Zahra, 2023-01-24 A brilliant eye opening work of history that speaks volumes about today's battles over international trade immigration public health and global inequality Before the First World War enthusiasm for a borderless world reached its height International travel migration trade and progressive projects on matters ranging from women's rights to world peace reached a crescendo Yet in the same breath an undercurrent of reaction was growing one that would surge ahead with the outbreak of war and its aftermath In Against the World a sweeping and ambitious work of history acclaimed scholar Tara Zahra examines how nationalism rather than internationalism came to ensnare world politics in the early twentieth century The air went out of the globalist balloon with the First World War as quotas were put on immigration and tariffs on trade not only in the United States but across Europe where war and disease led to mass societal upheaval The Spanish flu heightened anxieties about porous national boundaries The global impact of the 1929 economic crash and the Great Depression amplified a quest for food security in Europe and economic autonomy worldwide Demands for relief from the instability and inequality linked to globalization forged democracies and dictatorships alike from Gandhi's India to America's New Deal and Hitler's Third Reich

Immigration restrictions racially constituted notions of citizenship anti-Semitism and violent outbursts of hatred of the other became the norm coming to genocidal fruition in the Second World War Millions across the political spectrum sought refuge from the imagined and real threats of the global economy in ways strikingly reminiscent of our contemporary political moment new movements emerged focused on homegrown and local foods domestically produced clothing and other goods and back to the land communities Rich with astonishing detail gleaned from Zahra's unparalleled archival research in five languages Against the World is a poignant and thorough exhumation of the popular sources of resistance to globalization With anti-globalism a major tenet of today's extremist agendas Zahra's arrestingly clear-sighted and wide-angled account is essential reading to grapple with our divided present
