Crankcase Depressure Regulator and Flow Control Valve

SERVICING

• See Figures 40 and 41

• This system is found only on diesel engines.

The Crankcase Depressure Regulator (CDR) is designed to regulate crankcase vapors in basically the same manner as the PCV valve on gasoline engines. The valve is located by the right cylinder head cover. On this system, the valve and filter are replaced as an assembly.

The ventilation pipes and tubes should also be checked and replaced as wear and tear dictates.

• Do not attempt to test the crankcase controls at these intervals.

Instead, clean the valve cover filter assembly and vent pipes and check the vent pipes. Replace the breather cap assembly every 25,000 miles (40,000 km). Replace all rubber fittings as required every 15,000 miles (24,000 km).

Evaporative Control

SERVICING

The only regular maintenance that need be performed on the evaporative emission control is to regularly change the filter on those 1980-85 models which utilize one. 1986-88 trucks do not have a canister filter and check the condition of the hoses. If any hoses need replacement, use only hoses which are marked "EVAP". No other type should be used. Whenever the engine vent hose is replaced, the restrictor adjacent to the canister should also be replaced.

The evaporative emission canister is located in the left side of the engine compartment, with a filler located on its bottom (if applicable).

For further information on the evaporative emission system, please refer to Section 4.

To service the canister filter:

1. Note the installed position of the hoses, tagging them as necessary, so they are free to be removed.
2. Loosen the clamps and remove the canister.
3. Put the filter out and leave it alone.
4. Install a new canister filter.
5. Install the canister and tighten the clamps.
6. Check the hoses.

Battery

PRECAUTIONS

Always wear caution when working on or near the battery. Never allow a tool to bridge the gap between the negative and positive battery terminals. Also, be careful not to allow a tool to provide a ground between the positive terminal and any other component on the vehicle. Either of these conditions will cause a short circuit, leading to sparks and possible personal injury.

Do not smoke or all open flames near a battery. The gases contained in the battery are very explosive and, if ignited, could cause severe injury or death. All batteries, regardless of type, should be carefully secured by a battery hold-down device. If not, the terminals or casing may break free during vehicle operation. A battery which is not secured may swing back to look, making it discharge faster. The acid can also leak down at components under the hood.

Always inspect the battery case for cracks, leakage and corrosion. A white powdery substance on the battery case or on nearby components would indicate a battery or electrolyte leak. If the battery is cracked, it should be replaced immediately.

GENERAL MAINTENANCE

Always keep the battery capped and minimize heat or corrosion. Check and clean these components about once a year.

Keep the top of the battery clean, as a film of dirt can help discharge a battery that is not used for long periods. A solution of baking soda and water may be used for cleaning, but be careful to flush this off with clean water. DO NOT let any of the solution into the filler holes. Baking soda neutralizes battery acid and will so weaken a battery cell.

Batteries in vehicles which are not operated on a regular basis can fall victim to parasitic loads (small current drains) which are constantly draining current from the battery. Normal parasitic loads may drain a battery on a vehicle that is in storage and not used for 6-8 weeks. Vehicles that have additional accessories such as a stereo or an alarm system may discharge a battery sooner. If the vehicle is to be stored for longer periods in a secure area and the alarm system is not necessary, the negative battery cable should be disconnected to protect the battery.

Remember that completely deep cycling a battery (completely discharging and recharging it) will shorten battery life.
