Exploring Teachers in Fiction and Film Melanie Shoffner, 2016-03-31 This book about teachers as characters in popular media examines what can be learned from fictional teachers for the purposes of educating real teachers Its aim is advances social scientific interest in a field long dominated by the humanities stories and storytelling Stories are a whole lot more than entertainment oral narratives novels films and immersive video games all form part of the sociocultural discourses which we are enmeshed in and use to co construct our beliefs about the world around us Young children use them to learn about the world beyond their immediate sensory experience and even in an era of interactive electronic media the bedtime story remains a cherished part of most children s daily routine Storytelling is thus the first abstract formal learning method we encounter as human beings It is also probably transcultural perhaps even an immanent part of the human condition Narratives are at heart sequences of events and presuppose and reinforce particular cause and effect relationships Inevitably they also construct unconscious biases prejudices and discriminatory attitudes Storying a term we use in this book to encompass stories storytellers and storytelling is complex and this book seeks to make sense of it

George Rochberg, American Composer Amy Lynn Wlodarski, 2019 George Rochberg American Composer is the first comprehensive study devoted to tracing and putting into a rich cultural context the career of George Rochberg widely acknowledged as one of the most prominent musical postmodernists Drawing from unpublished materials including diaries letters sketches and personal papers the book traces the impact of two specific personal traumas Rochberg s service as an infantryman in World War II and the premature death of his son on his work as a leading composer college educator and public intellectual The book significantly expands our understanding of Rochberg s creative work by reconstructing and examining the earliest seeds of his aesthetic thinking which took root while he served in Patton s Third Army and following their development through his mature compositional period into the final stages of his long career It argues that Rochberg s military service was a transformative life experience for the young humanist one that crucially shaped his worldview and influenced his artistic creativity for the next sixty years As such it reveals personal trauma and aesthetic recovery to be the basis of Rochberg s postwar ideas about humanism musical quotation and neotonality Amy Lynn Wlodarski is associate professor of music at Dickinson College Support for this publication was provided by the Howard Hanson Institute for American Music at the Eastman School of Music at the University of Rochester
