MRS Rachel Lynde lived just where the Avonlea main road dipped down into a little hollow fringed with alders and ladies eardrops and traversed by a brook that had its source away back in the woods of the old Cuthbert place. It was reputed to be an intricate headlong brook in its earlier course through those woods with dark secrets of pool and cascade but by the time it reached Lynde's Hollow it was a quiet well-conducted little stream for not even a brook could run past Mrs Rachel Lynde's door without due regard for decency and decorum. It probably was conscious that Mrs Rachel was sitting at her window keeping a sharp eye on everything that passed from brooks and children up and that if she noticed anything odd or out of place she would never rest until she had ferreted out the whys and wherefores thereof. There are plenty of people in Avonlea and out of it who can attend closely to their neighbor's business by dint of neglecting their own but Mrs Rachel Lynde was one of those capable creatures who can manage their own concerns and those of other folks into the bargain She was an notable housewife her work was always done and well done she ran the Sewing Circle helped run the Sunday school and was the strongest prop of the Church Aid Society and Foreign Missions Auxiliary Yet with all this Mrs Rachel found abundant time to sit for hours at her kitchen window knitting cotton warp quilts she had knitted sixteen of them as Avonlea housekeepers were wont to tell in awed voices and keeping a sharp eye on the main road that crossed the hollow and wound up the steep red hill beyond Since Avonlea occupied a little triangular peninsula jutting out into the Gulf of St Lawrence with water on two sides of it anybody who went out of it or into it had to pass over that hill road and so run the unseen gauntlet of Mrs Rachel's all-seeing eye She was sitting there one afternoon in early June The sun was coming in at the window warm and bright the orchard on the slope below the house was in a bridal flush of pinky white bloom hummed over by a myriad of bees Thomas Lynde a meek little man whom Avonlea people called Rachel Lynde's husband was sowing his late turnip seed on the hill field beyond the barn and Matthew Cuthbert ought to have been sowing his on the big red brook field away over by Green Gables Mrs Rachel knew that he ought because she had heard him tell Peter Morrison the evening before in William J Blair's store over at Carmody that he meant to sow his turnip seed the next afternoon Peter had asked him of course for Matthew Cuthbert had never been known to volunteer information about anything in his whole life And yet here was Matthew Cuthbert at half past three on the afternoon of a busy day placidly driving over the hollow and up the hill moreover he wore a white collar and his best suit of clothes which was plain proof that he was going out of Avonlea and he had the buggy and the sorrel mare which betokened that he was going a considerable distance Now where was Matthew Cuthbert going and why was he going there Had it been any other man in Avonlea Mrs Rachel deftly putting this and that together might have given a pretty good guess as to both questions But Matthew so rarely went from home that it must be something pressing and unusual which was taking him he was the shyest man alive and hated to have to go among strangers or to any place where he might have to talk Matthew dressed up with a white collar and driving in a buggy was something that didn't happen often Mrs Rachel pondered as she might could make nothing of it and her afternoon's enjoyment was spoiled
