

Problem 1 Scavenger Hunt

For this activity, you are going on a scavenger hunt with your group in search of objects. You will try to find objects in your classroom that match certain customary or metric lengths. Then you will measure those objects to see how close you got. Here's a list of what you'll need and the rules of the scavenger hunt.

What You'll Need

- You will need a ruler, yardstick, and meter stick.

Rules

- The first column of the table shows measurements in both customary and metric units. Find an object that you think has a measurement that is close to each estimated measurement.
- Next, measure that object and record the measurement in the table.
- Then, calculate the difference between the estimated measurement and actual measurement.
- After you have calculated each difference, add up all the differences for both customary and metric measurements.
- The group with the smallest difference in each category will be the scavenger hunt winner!
