About the College Board

The College Board has always stood for the belief that every student has the potential to succeed in college, science and opportunity. Founded in 1863, the College Board was created to expand access to higher education. Today, the membership association is made up of more than 6,000 of the world's leading educational institutions and is dedicated to promoting excellence and equity in education. Each year, the College Board helps more than seven million students prepare for a successful transition to college through programs and services in college readiness and college success — including the SAT[®] and the Advanced Placement Program[®]. The organization also serves the educational community through research and advisory on behalf of students, educators and schools.
