Essential Career Transition Coaching Skills Caroline Talbott, 2013-06-19 Career moves even positive ones can be disruptive for the individual and the psychological impact of changing roles or careers is often underestimated Career transition coaching is a relatively new field but one that is highly relevant in the modern world In Essential Career Transition Coaching Skills Caroline Talbott explores the most effective career transition coaching techniques and explains the psychology behind them Looking at both self motivated and enforced career changes the book pays particular attention to the psychological processes experienced by the client so that the coach can understand and anticipate their reactions and help them make the most successful career moves It covers general skills tools and techniques that can be applied to any career transition as well as more specific examples such as moving from management into leadership aspiring business owners and career changers Case studies illustrating the methods of experienced coaches and step by step guides to coaching techniques are also included Ideal for those already experienced in general coaching and looking to specialise as well as anyone whose job requires coaching skills such as managers and HR professionals this timely book provides a comprehensive guide to the whole transition cycle from choosing a career direction or change to making a move and adapting successfully The Emotionally Intelligent College Aiden Carthy with Ailish Jameson, 2016-02-22 In recent decades there has been increasing focus on the role of formal education in empowering students social and moral development A wealth of research evidence has shown that helping students to develop their social and emotional competencies can encourage students personal growth and can also yield benefits including increased student engagement and decreased levels of drop out However much of what has been previously published in this field has focused on younger students and there has been a lesser focus on third level students and educators Therefore there is a notable need for a single volume that synthesises the research that has been conducted pertaining to emotional and social skills development in third level learning environments The key features of this text are a synopsis of key theories and research findings related to emotional intelligence and education an outline of potential solutions to the most prevalent barriers that have been found with respect to encouraging emotional and social skills development in third level settings and the provision of a tool kit of simple exercises for use in third level educational settings that are designed to help students develop a range of key aspects of emotional intelligence There are both financial and pedagogical incentives for third level colleges to invest in the provision of students social skills development Therefore the primary focus of this book is to help students and educators reach their maximum potential and in doing so help encourage the development of emotionally intelligent colleges From Mines and Wells to Well-Built Minds Bénédicte de la Brière, Deon Filmer, Dena Ringold, Dominic Rohner, Anastasiya Denisova, 2017-05-17 Sub Saharan Africa s natural resource rich countries have poor human development Children in these countries are more likely to die before their first birthday more likely to be stunted and less likely to attend school than children in other countries with similar income Despite the current price downturn extractives will remain an important part of Sub Saharan Africa s growth story using resource rents wisely remains a long term challenge Governments must choose how to allocate resource rents between spending investing in human or physical capital or investing in global financial assets The return to investing in physical and human capital will be high in countries where the capital stock is low Moreover higher levels of human capital make investments in physical capital more productive which suggests that the optimal portfolio will involve investing in both Human capital should be prioritized in many of Sub Saharan Africa s resource rich countries because of the low starting point Investing effectively in human capital is hard because it involves delivering services which means coordinating a large number of actors and activities Three dimensions of governance are key institutions incentives and information Decentralization and leveraging the private sector are entry points to reforming institutional structures Revenues from natural resources can fund financial incentives to strengthen performance or demand Producing information making it available and increasing social accountability helps citizens understand their rights and hold governments and providers accountable Improving the quality of education and health services is central to improving human capital Two additional areas are promising First early child development mother and newborn health and early child nutrition care and education improves outcomes in childhood and later on Second cash transfers either conditional or unconditional reduce poverty increase household investments in child education nutrition and health and increase the investment in productive assets which foster further income generation The Schoolwide Enrichment Model Joseph S. Renzulli, Sally M.

Reis, 2021-10-10 The Schoolwide Enrichment Model A How to Guide for Talent Development 3rd ed presents a common sense approach for helping students achieve and engage in joyful learning Based on years of research the Schoolwide Enrichment Model SEM is founded on highly successful practices originally developed for programs for gifted students The SEM promotes a rising tide lifts all ships approach to school improvement by applying general enrichment strategies to all students and opportunities for advanced level follow up opportunities for superior learners and highly motivated students This guidebook shows educators step by step how to develop their own SEM program based on their own local resources student population and faculty strengths and interests Instead of offering students a one size fits all curriculum the model helps educators look at each student s strengths interests learning styles and preferred modes of expression and capitalize on these assets The book highlights the model s fundamentals and underlying research and provides information about organizational components service delivery options and resources for implementation The book suggests methods for engaging and challenging identified gifted students and provides practical resources for teachers using the SEM with all students A Critical Introduction to Coaching and Mentoring David E Gray, Bob Garvey, David A Lane, 2016-03-17 This is the definitive introduction to coaching and mentoring written by an experienced and multidisciplinary team Taking you all the way through from the emerging theory to informed practice the book covers Skills purposes and outcomes of coaching and mentoring processes The many settings in which they take place public private and voluntary Coaching and mentoring s evidence base and how it is assessed The professionalization of coaching and mentoring and a move towards integration Supported by a wide range of case studies activities further questions and topics for discussion this book is a comprehensive but accessible introduction The authors take a critical approach and go beyond the basics to support your development as a critically reflective practitioner It is essential reading for those studying coaching and mentoring and professionals looking to integrate coaching and mentoring into their organizations Preparing to Teach in Secondary Schools Val Brooks,Ian Abbott,Prue Huddleston,2012-06-01 This book introduces trainee secondary school teachers to a range of key professional
