

The Cold War Heats Up

1. As you read the passage, fill in the information you discover about the Soviet-American agreement below.

	What the Soviets Wanted	What the Americans Wanted
1. Would it make any sense to build space programs and rockets?	That U.S. support them economically (training, fuel, etc.)	Not really.
2. Would anyone benefit from the rockets and satellites they could build?	They would certainly produce satellites that were better. They could improve delivery of aid.	They were worried about the loss of U.S. technology when John F. Kennedy became president. They also worried about Soviet satellites in Germany, Poland, Czechoslovakia, etc.
3. Would anyone challenge U.S. power?	Not really.	They didn't want to compete with the superpowers and risk escalation.
4. Would the U.S. achieve other goals besides reducing tensions?	Yes. The governments could be encouraged to limit nuclear weapons.	Yes. American jobs that were transferred to the world would make a contribution like this.

2. Suppose the agreement simply set up the program as described.

What would be the main results?

It might be that the satellites would be better off.

However, because the program is the opposite of what the Soviet U.S. relationship was, that just might not be the case.
