2014 Controlled Test Final Term Grade11 Maths:

Describing and Studying Domain-Specific Serious Games Joke Torbeyns,Erno Lehtinen,Jan Elen,2015-09-14 This book describes research outcomes on domain specific serious games The first part of the book focuses on the design and major characteristics of actual mainly math related serious games The second part of the book presents recent empirical studies on these games exploring topics such as the effectiveness of serious games for learning and increasing motivation and the influence of learners domain specific and game competencies The integration of serious games into the curriculum and subsequent performance and motivation outcomes are also presented

Approximate Number System and Mathematics Jingguang Li,Xinlin Zhou,Marcus Lindskog,2019-11-25 Humans process quantity information without the aid of language or symbols to guide a variety of everyday life decisions The cognitive system that supports this intuitive skill is often referred to as the approximate number system ANS It has been argued that the ANS serves as the foundation of the formal symbolic number system mathematics Abundant empirical evidence is supportive of this view acuity of the ANS is positively correlated with symbolic math performance training of the ANS may cause improvements in symbolic math performance and the ANS and symbolic number processing may share a common neural underpinning However recently several theories and empirical data cast doubt on the role of the ANS in symbolic math processing This e book aims to advance our understanding of the underlying mechanisms of the overlap between the ANS and mathematics

Executive Function and Education Mariëtte Huizinga,Dieter Baeyens,Jacob A. Burack,2018-09-21 Executive function is an umbrella term for various cognitive processes that are central to goal directed behavior thoughts and emotions These processes are especially important in novel or demanding situations which require a rapid and flexible adjustment of behavior to the changing demands of the environment The development of executive function relies on the maturation of associated brain regions as well as on stimulation in the child s social contexts especially the home and school Over the past decade the term executive function has become a buzzword in the field of education as both researchers and educators underscore the importance of skills like goal setting planning and organizing in academic success Accordingly in initiating this Research Topic and eBook our goal was to provide a forum for state of the art theoretical and empirical work on this that both facilitates communication among researchers from diverse fields and provides a theoretically sound source of information for educators The contributors to this volume who hail from several different countries in Europe and North America have certainly accomplished this goal in their nuanced and cutting edge depictions of the complex links among various executive function components and educational success

Smog in our brains: Gender differences in the impact of exposure to air pollution on cognitive performance in China Chen, Xi,Zhang, Xiaobo,Zhang, Xin,2017-03-11 While there is a large body of literature on the negative health effects of air pollution there is much less written about its effects on cognitive performance for the whole population This paper studies the effects of contemporaneous and cumulative exposure to air pollution on cognitive performance based on a nationally representative survey in China By merging a longitudinal sample at the individual level with local air quality data according to the exact dates and counties of interviews we find that contemporaneous and cumulative exposure to air pollution impedes both verbal and math scores of survey subjects Interestingly the negative effect is stronger for men than for women Specifically the gender difference is more salient among the old and less educated in both verbal and math tests The Power of Music Susan Hallam,Evangelos Himonides,2022-07-11 Building on her earlier work The Power of Music A Research Synthesis of the Impact of Actively Making Music on the Intellectual Social and Personal Development of Children and Young People this volume by Susan Hallam and Evangelos Himonides is an important new resource in the field of music education practice and psychology A well signposted text with helpful subheadings The Power of Music An Exploration of the Evidence gathers and synthesises research in neuroscience psychology and education to develop our understanding of the effects of listening to and actively making music Its chapters address music s relationship with literacy and numeracy transferable skills its impact on social cohesion and personal wellbeing as well as the roles that music plays in our everyday lives Considering evidence from large population samples to individual case studies and across age groups the authors also pose important methodological questions to the research community The Power of Music defends qualitative research against a requirement for randomised control trials that can obscure the diverse and often fraught contexts in which people of all ages and backgrounds are exposed to and engage with music This magnificent and comprehensive volume allows the evidence about the power of music to speak for itself thus providing an essential directory for those researching music education and its social personal and cognitive impact across human ages and experiences Mathematics Education in the Early Years Tamsin Meaney,Ola Helenius,Maria L. Johansson,Troels Lange,Anna Wernberg,2016-01-22 This book presents chapters based on papers presented at the second POEM conference on early mathematics learning These chapters broaden the discussion about mathematics education in early childhood by exploring the debate about construction versus instruction Specific sections investigate the teaching and learning of mathematical processes and mathematical content early childhood teacher development transitions for young children between home and preschool between home and school and between preschool and school The chapters use a range of innovative theoretical and methodological approaches which will form an interesting basis for future research in this area Supporting Children and Families Through Investments in High-quality Early Education United States. Voss,2016-05-17 Cognitive training is not always effective This is also the case for the form of cognitive training that this Research Topic focuses on prolonged performance on game like cognitive tasks The ultimate goal of this cognitive training is to improve ecologically valid target functions For example cognitive training should help children with ADHD to stay focused at school or help older adults to manage the complexity of daily life However so far this goal has proven too ambitious Transfer from trained to non trained tasks is not even guaranteed in a laboratory so there is a strong need for understanding how when and for how long cognitive training has effect Which cognitive functions are amenable to game training for whom and how Are there mediating factors for success such as motivation attention or age Are the improvements real or can they be attributed to nonspecific factors such as outcome expectancy or demand characteristics Are there better strategies to improve cognitive functions through game training This Research Topic of Frontiers in Human Neuroscience charts current insights in the determinants of success of game training
