Mathematical Theory of Scattering Resonances Semyon Dyatlov, Maciej Zworski, 2019-09-10

Scattering resonances generalize bound states eigenvalues for systems in which energy can scatter to infinity. A typical resonance has a rate of oscillation just as a bound state does and a rate of decay. Although the notion is intrinsically dynamical, an elegant mathematical formulation comes from considering meromorphic continuations of Green's functions. The poles of these meromorphic continuations capture physical information by identifying the rate of oscillation with the real part of a pole and the rate of decay with its imaginary part. An example from mathematics is given by the zeros of the Riemann zeta function; they are essentially the resonances of the Laplacian on the modular surface. The Riemann hypothesis then states that the decay rates for the modular surface are all either  $\frac{1}{2}$  or  $1$ . An example from physics is given by quasi-normal modes of black holes which appear in long time asymptotics of gravitational waves. This book concentrates mostly on the simplest case of scattering by compactly supported potentials but provides pointers to modern literature where more general cases are studied. It also presents a recent approach to the study of resonances on asymptotically hyperbolic manifolds. The last two chapters are devoted to semiclassical methods in the study of resonances.

Fourier Analysis on Polytopes and the Geometry of Numbers Sinai Robins, 2024-04-24 This book offers a gentle introduction to the geometry of numbers from a modern Fourier analytic point of view One of the main themes is the transfer of geometric knowledge of a polytope to analytic knowledge of its Fourier transform The Fourier transform preserves all of the information of a polytope and turns its geometry into analysis The approach is unique and streamlines this emerging field by presenting new simple proofs of some basic results of the field In addition each chapter is fitted with many exercises some of which have solutions and hints in an appendix Thus an individual learner will have an easier time absorbing the material on their own or as part of a class Overall this book provides an introduction appropriate for an advanced undergraduate a beginning graduate student or researcher interested in exploring this important expanding field

Deleuze, Bergson, Merleau-Ponty Dorothea E. Olkowski, 2021-09-07 Deleuze Bergson Merleau Ponty The Logic and Pragmatics of Creation Affective Life and Perception offers the only full length examination of the relationships between Deleuze Bergson and Merleau Ponty Henri Bergson 1859 1941 Maurice Merleau Ponty 1908 1961 and Gilles Deleuze 1925 1995 succeeded one another as leading voices in French philosophy over a span of 136 years Their relationship to one another's work involved far more than their overlapping lifetimes Bergson became both the source of philosophical insight and a focus of criticism for Merleau Ponty and Deleuze Deleuze criticized Merleau Ponty's phenomenology as well as his interest in cognitive and natural science Author Dorothea Olkowski points out that each of these philosophers situated their thought in relation to their understandings of crucial developments and theories taken up in the history and philosophy of science and this has been difficult for Continental philosophy to grasp She articulates the differences between these philosophers with respect to their disparate approaches to the physical sciences and with how their views of science function in relation to their larger philosophical projects In Deleuze Bergson Merleau Ponty Olkowski examines the critical areas of the structure of time and memory the structure of consciousness and the question of humans relation to nature She reveals that these philosophers are working from inside one another's ideas and are making strong claims about time consciousness reality and their effects on humanity that converge and diverge The result is a clearer picture of the intertwined workings of Continental philosophy and its fundamental engagement with the sciences
