A methodology for planning sustainable supply chain initiatives Kucht Campos, Juliana, 2016-11-18 This publication presents a methodology for planning sustainable supply chain initiatives consisting of three scopes each with its appropriate mechanism and background theory The first one Acting In structures organizational practices in a Framework for Managing Sustainable Supply Chain Practices The second scope Acting Out compares practices from 32 recognized sustainability leaders from five different industries through a Benchmarks Practices Bank The third scope Acting Beyond supports defining and managing a portfolio of sustainable supply chain practices through a Practices Portfolio Planning Matrix which provides a list of opportunities for the exchange of knowledge between Germany and Brazil. The methodology significantly supports supply chain decision makers in planning initiatives and visualizing collaboration opportunities within a firm industry and shared value chain perspective. As companies become more global, challenges also become greater; thus, a more systematic and holistic approach can lead the way for developing more innovative solutions. In the following doctoral work, a methodology for planning sustainability initiatives in the supply chain area is developed, which consists of three main fields of action and for which the theoretical background as well as suitable mechanisms are shown. The first area, the so-called Acting In, structures organisational tasks and integrates these into a framework, the Framework for Managing Sustainable Supply Chain Practices. The second area, Acting Out, compares various procedures of 32 recognised companies in the sustainability field with the help of the database Benchmarks Practices Bank. Acting Beyond, the third area, helps to define a portfolio of sustainable measures in the supply chain area. Here, the Practices Portfolio Planning Matrix is used, which simultaneously shows interesting possibilities for knowledge exchange between Germany and Brazil. The developed methodology is suitable for both research and for users in the supply chain area of great importance. The mechanisms developed here support decision-makers in companies in the planning of sustainability initiatives in the supply chain area and clarify cooperation possibilities on various levels, internally, at the same value chain stage and across the entire value chain. As companies become increasingly global, the challenges are greater. Therefore, a more systematic and holistic approach can lead the way for developing more innovative solutions.
