Environmental performance of pig supply chains: Guidelines for assessment (Version 1) Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2018-02-23 This is a living document produced by the Livestock Environmental and Assessment Performance LEAP Partnership The document presents a methodology and provides guidance for the assessment of the environmental performance of pig supply chains It provides users guidance on how to apply the life cycle assessment approach to pig supply chains Demand for livestock products is projected to grow 1.3 percent per year until 2050 driven by global population growth and increasing wealth and urbanization This projected growth places significant pressure on the livestock sector to perform in a more sustainable way Currently many different methods are used to assess the environmental impacts and performance of livestock products This causes confusion and makes it difficult to compare results and set priorities for continuing improvement The intention of this document is to provide an overview assessment of existing studies and associated methods that have used life cycle assessment for the evaluation of pig supply chains

Ecology, Planning, and Management of Urban Forests Margaret M. Carreiro, Yong-Chang Song, Jianguo Wu, 2007-10-31 It has been increasingly recognized that trees and vegetation in urban areas provide a number of ecological services beyond beautifying cities The purpose of urban forestry is to use trees and natural habitat patches to ameliorate negative environmental impacts of cities and to contribute to the creation of more livable ecological sustainable cities Ecology Planning and Management of Urban Forests takes an international approach to sharing knowledge about the management of urban forests that has been learned through studies in many different regions This allows the reader to evaluate methods and management that are appropriate for particular geographic environmental and socio political contexts Urban forests are also approached on regional and landscape scales to encompass more natural environments in and around cities rather than within arbitrary municipal boundaries
