Psychological perspectives on expertise Guillermo Campitelli,Michael H Connors, Merim Bilalić,David Zachary Hambrick,2015-05-19 Experts are persons who are very knowledgeable about or skillful in a particular area The aim of this Research Topic is to advance knowledge in the understanding of the phenomenon of expertise by putting together different lines of research that directly or indirectly study expertise Herbert Simon s expertise studies initiated two lines of research One is interested in elucidating the cognitive processes underlying expertise and the other investigates how expertise develops These lines of research started with studies comparing experts and novices in chess and then they extended to numerous areas of expertise such as music medical diagnosis sports arts and sciences In the field of judgment and decision making researchers investigate the quality of judgments and decisions of experts in different professions e g clinical psychologists medical practitioners judges meteorologists stock brokers Those lines of research explicitly investigate the topic of expertise but there are other research areas that make a substantial contribution to understanding expertise Scholars in language acquisition and in face perception for example investigate cognitive processes and development of expertise in areas in which almost everyone becomes an expert Furthermore skill acquisition research informs in detail about short term cognitive changes that may be important to understand how expertise develops We are interested in original research that advances knowledge in the understanding of decision making cognitive processes and development of expertise in sports intellectual games arts scientific disciplines and professions as well as expertise in cognitive abilities such as perception memory attention language and imagery We are also interested in theoretical articles in any of these areas articles that describe computational or mathematical models of expertise and articles offering a framework that would guide expertise research Articles that offer integrative approaches of some of the areas described above are strongly encouraged The goal of this Research Topic is to produce a hallmark piece of work in the field of expertise which complements and does not overlap with the Neural implementations of expertise Research Topic in Frontiers in Human Neuroscience

Society, Organizations and the Brain: building towards a unified cognitive neuroscience perspective Carl Senior, Nick Lee, Sven Braeutigam, 2015-07-02 This e book brings together scholars in both the neurosciences and organizational sciences who have adopted various approaches to study the cognitive mechanisms mediating the social behavior that we see within organizations Such an approach has been termed by ourselves and others as organisational cognitive neuroscience In recent years there has been a veritable increase in studies that have explored the cognitive mechanisms driving such behaviors and much progress has been made in understanding the neural underpinnings of processes such as financial exchange risk awareness and even leadership However while these studies are informative and add to our understanding of human cognition they fall short of providing evidence based recommendations for practice Specifically we address the broader issue of how the neuroscientific study of such core social behaviors can be used to improve the very way that we work To address these gaps in our understanding the chapters in this book serve as a platform that allows scholars in both the neurosciences and the organizational sciences to highlight the work that spans across these two fields The consolidation of these two fields also serves to highlight the utility of a singular organizational cognitive neuroscience This is a fundamentally important outcome of the book as the application of neuroscience to address economically relevant behaviors has seen a variety of fields evolve in their own right such as neuromarketing neuroeconomics and so forth The use of neuro scientific technologies in particular fMRI has indeed led to a bewildering and somewhat suffocating proliferation of new approaches however the speed of such developments demands that we must proceed carefully with such ventures or risk some fundamental mistakes. The book that you now hold will consolidate these new neuroscience based approaches and in doing so highlight the importance of this approach in helping us to understand human social behavior in general. Taken together the chapters provide a framework for scholars within the neurosciences who wish to explore the further the opportunities that the study of organisational behavior may provide.

The Future of Outer Space Law Anna Marie Brennan, 2025-06-27 This book identifies and discusses problems and opportunities for the future theory and practice of outer space law. The corpus of outer space law including the Outer Space Treaty 1967 has faced multiple challenges and critiques. In recent times these have included advances in technology, the militarisation of outer space, space debris and geopolitics. The prominent and emerging contributors to this collection draw on diverse research frameworks to discuss proposals for the future of outer space law and policy. These include addressing regulatory gaps and under examined and emerging areas of the law but also beyond the Outer Space Treaty especially related to potential extraterrestrial settlements, satellites, technology, self defence, self determination and the environment. The book discusses the tensions between universalism and localisation as well as the regionalisation of outer space law and policy and how these approaches might adapt to create a dynamic space industry for the future. This book is both practical and theoretical in scope and will be of interest to academics, researchers and students. It will also be of interest to international organisations, diplomats and other government officials and policymakers.

Local Climate Change and Society Mohamed A. Salih, 2014-12-11 Local Climate Change and Society examines how climate change has altered society's relationship with the environment and the resulting structural changes in local communities to adapt to and mitigate climate change. The book analyses the principles, practices and local responses to micro level climate policies and interrogates the increasing role of local climate social movements induced by transnational corporations' activities both above and below the equator.

The Exquisite Corpse of Asian America Rachel C. Lee, 2014-12-05 Addresses this central question: if race has been settled as a legal or social construction and not as biological fact, why do Asian American artists, authors and performers continue to scrutinize their body parts?

Climate Change and Cities Cynthia Rosenzweig, William D. Solecki, Patricia Romero-Lankao, Shagun Mehrotra, Shobhakar Dhakal, Somayya Ali Ibrahim, 2018-03-29 The Urban Climate Change Research Network's Second Assessment Report on Climate Change in Cities. ARC3 2 is the second in a series of global science based reports to examine climate risk, adaptation and mitigation efforts in cities. The book explicitly seeks to explore the implications of changing climatic conditions on critical urban physical and social infrastructure sectors and intersectoral concerns. The primary purpose of ARC3 2 is to inform the development and implementation of effective urban climate change

policies leveraging ongoing and planned investments for populations in cities of developing emerging and developed countries This volume like its predecessor will be invaluable for a range of audiences involved with climate change and cities mayors city officials and policymakers urban planners policymakers charged with developing climate change mitigation and adaptation programs and a broad spectrum of researchers and advanced students in the environmental sciences Animals in Heaven? Terry Martin, 2024-09-26 Christians of all traditions have often puzzled with the question Do dogs go to heaven Drawing on Catholic teaching and on his long pastoral experience as a parish priest Terry Martin expands that concept to consider wider issues around all animals domesticated and free living and why they are here Within a context of Christian faith he seeks to understand the place of animals in God's complex creation and the relationship that human beings have for good or ill with those animals More than that he looks at the big questions which so many ask about who under God animals are and what meaning if any animal lives have from a Catholic Christian perspective Dying in America Institute of Medicine, Committee on Approaching Death: Addressing Key End-of-Life Issues, 2015-03-19 For patients and their loved ones no care decisions are more profound than those made near the end of life Unfortunately the experience of dying in the United States is often characterized by fragmented care inadequate treatment of distressing symptoms frequent transitions among care settings and enormous care responsibilities for families According to this report the current health care system of rendering more intensive services than are necessary and desired by patients and the lack of coordination among programs increases risks to patients and creates avoidable burdens on them and their families Dying in America is a study of the current state of health care for persons of all ages who are nearing the end of life Death is not a strictly medical event Ideally health care for those nearing the end of life harmonizes with social psychological and spiritual support All people with advanced illnesses who may be approaching the end of life are entitled to access to high quality compassionate evidence based care consistent with their wishes Dying in America evaluates strategies to integrate care into a person and family centered team based framework and makes recommendations to create a system that coordinates care and supports and respects the choices of patients and their families The findings and recommendations of this report will address the needs of patients and their families and assist policy makers clinicians and their educational and credentialing bodies leaders of health care delivery and financing organizations researchers public and private funders religious and community leaders advocates of better care journalists and the public to provide the best care possible for people nearing the end of life
