Analysing Architecture Simon Unwin:

Analysing Architecture Simon Unwin, 1997 Analysing Architecture offers a unique notebook of architectural strategies to present an engaging introduction to elements and concepts in architectural design. Beautifully illustrated throughout with the author's original drawings, examples are drawn from across the world and from many periods of architectural history from prehistoric times to the very recent past to illustrate analytical themes and to show how drawing can be used to study architecture. In this second edition, the framework for analysis has been revised and enlarged and further case studies added. Many new drawings have been included illustrating further examples of the themes explored. The link between analysis and learning about the possibilities of design has been reinforced and the bibliography of recommended supplementary reading has been expanded.

Analysing Architecture Simon Unwin, 2003 Analysing Architecture presents an introduction to elements and concepts in architectural design, thereby offering a greater understanding of architecture's creative disciplines and allowing readers to develop their own design capacities.

Analysing Architecture Simon Unwin, 2014 Now in its fourth edition, Analysing Architecture has become internationally established as the best introduction to architecture. Aimed primarily at those wishing to become professional architects, it also offers those in disciplines related to architecture, from archaeology to stage design, garden design to installation art, a clear and accessible insight into the workings of this rich and fascinating subject. With copious illustrations from his own notebooks, the author dissects examples from around the world and all periods of history to explain underlying strategies in architectural design and show how drawing may be used as a medium for analysis. This new edition of Analysing Architecture is revised and expanded. Notably, the chapter on Basic Elements of Architecture has been enlarged to discuss the powers various architectural elements offer the architect. Three new chapters have been added to the section on Themes in Spatial Organisation, covering Occupying the In between, Inhabited Wall and Refuge, and Prospect. Two new examples, a Mud House from Kerala, India, and the Mongyo tei, a tea house from Kyoto, Japan, have been added to the Case Studies at the end of the book. The Select Bibliography has been expanded and the Index revised. Works of architecture are instruments for managing, orchestrating, modifying our relationship with the world around us. They frame just about everything we do. Architecture is complex, subtle, frustrating, but ultimately extremely rewarding. It can be a difficult discipline to get to grips with; nothing in school quite prepares anyone for the particular demands of an architecture course. But this book will help.

Analysing Architecture is the foundation volume of a series of books by Simon Unwin exploring the workings of architecture. Other books in the series include Twenty Buildings Every Architect Should Understand and Exercises in Architecture.

Shadow Simon Unwin,2020-02-18 Each of these Analysing Architecture Notebooks is devoted to a particular theme in understanding the rich and varied workings of architecture They can be thought of as addenda to the foundation volume Analysing Architecture which first appeared in 1997 and has subsequently been enlarged in three further editions Examining these extra themes as a series of Notebooks rather than as additional chapters in future editions allows greater space for more detailed exploration of a wider variety of examples whilst avoiding the risk of the original book becoming unwieldy Shadows may be insubstantial but they are nevertheless an important element in architecture In prehistoric times we sought shade as a refuge from the hot sun and chilling rain Through history architects have used shadows to draw to mould form to paint pictures to orchestrate atmosphere to indicate the passing of time as well as to identify place Sometimes shadow can be the substance of architecture

Children As Place-Makers Simon Unwin, 2019 Each of these Analysing Architecture Notebooks is devoted to a particular theme in understanding the rich and varied workings of architecture They can be thought of as addenda to the foundation volume Analysing Architecture which first appeared in 1997 and has subsequently been enlarged in three further editions Examining these extra themes as a series of Notebooks rather than as additional chapters in future editions allows greater space for more detailed exploration of a wider variety of examples whilst avoiding the risk of the original book becoming unwieldy As children we make places spontaneously on the beach in woodland around our homes Those places are evidence of a natural language of architecture we all share Beginning with the child as seed and agent of the places it makes initial sections of Children as Place makers illustrate the key verbs that drive that natural language of architecture Later sections look at the core importance of the circle of place how as children we are drawn to inhabit boxes and the narrative possibilities that arise when place is linked with imagination The principal messages of this Notebook are that it is by place making we make sense of the space of the world in which we live and that the first step in becoming a professional architect is to re awaken the innate architect inside each of us

Metaphor Simon Unwin, 2019-03-28 Each of these Analysing Architecture Notebooks is devoted to a particular theme in understanding the rich and varied workings of architecture They can be thought of as addenda to the foundation volume Analysing Architecture which first appeared in 1997 and has subsequently been enlarged in three further editions Examining these extra themes as a series of Notebooks rather than as additional chapters in future editions allows greater space for more detailed exploration of a wider variety of examples whilst avoiding the risk of the original book becoming unwieldy Metaphor is the most powerful component of the poetry of architecture It has been a significant factor in architecture since the earliest periods of human history when people were finding ways to give order and meaning to the world in which we live It is arguable that architecture began with the realisation of metaphor in physical form and that subsequent movements from Greek to Gothic Renaissance to Modern Victorian to Vernacular have all been driven by the emergence or rediscovery of different metaphors by which architecture might be generated
