Nkechikwu Azinge-Egbiri

2014 November Zimsec Economics Questions Paper 3:

Agriculture, Autonomous Development, and Prospects for Industrialization in Africa Emmanuel

Ndhlovu, 2025-03-06 The book investigates the intersection of agriculture and development in Africa and how it impacts rural industrialisation prospects. It provides a comprehensive view of the position of agriculture in African socio-economic activities and the agricultural sector's potential as the source for continental development and industrialisation prospects. Significant research has been done on African development with a focus placed on the problematic role played by slavery colonialism and later by incompetent African leaders who failed to steer development of the type that delivers a progressive sustained and sustainable transformation of lives and societies. There is limited focus on the possibility of agriculture being the potential basis of African development and the chance for industrialisation. This is a matter of concern considering the dominance of agriculture as a livelihood and income source for many people on the continent. In contributing to the debate on development in Africa, this book aims to show how agriculture can serve as the basis for African development and industrialisation. This will be achieved by i) providing a detailed historical description of the position of agriculture in African socio-economic activities ii) outlining the trajectory of African development with a focus on agriculture innovation and mechanisation iii) identifying challenges to the development of African agriculture iv) exploring the opportunities for agricultural development in Africa and v) providing practical and policy recommendations to improve African agriculture and make it the engine for development and industrialisation. Utilising a multidisciplinary approach which combines political economy social policy financial inclusion and empowerment approaches, the book also shows how engagement of youth and women digitalisation and the provision of support by public and private actors can jump start agriculture as the engine of African development and industrialisation. Taken together with this conscious effort to promote a multi-disciplinary discussion, the book is valuable reading for students policymakers and activists interested in emerging new directions in African development thinking and research.

The Political Economy of Xenophobia in Africa Adeoye O. Akinola, 2017-11-13 This book analyzes the phenomenon of xenophobia across African countries. With its roots in colonialism which coercively created modern states through border delineation and the artificial merging and dividing of communities, xenophobia continues to be a barrier to post-colonial sustainable peace and security and socio-economic and political development in Africa. This volume critically assesses how xenophobia has impacted the three elements of political economy: state, economy and society. Beginning with historical and theoretical analysis to put xenophobia in context, the book moves on to country-specific case studies discussing the nature of xenophobia in Nigeria, South Africa

Zambia Ghana and Zimbabwe The chapters furthermore explore both violent and non violent manifestations of xenophobia and analyze how state responses to xenophobia affects African states economies and societies especially in those cases where xenophobia has widespread institutional support Providing a theoretical understanding of xenophobia and proffering sustainable solutions to the proliferation of xenophobia in the continent this book is of use to researchers and students interested in political science African politics peace studies security and development economics as well as policy makers working to eradicate xenophobia in Africa

Constitutionalism and the Economy in Africa Charles M. Fombad, Nico Steytler, 2022-11-14 Despite expectations that the celebrated second wave of constitutional democracy in the 1990s would facilitate economic development Africa remains the continent with the highest level of poverty in the world The fight against poverty hinges on a vibrant economy that creates jobs and income by generating enough revenue to enable the state to take pro development measures However instead of the economic benefits that were supposed to accrue from the constitutional reforms of the last three decades including entrenching a market economy African economies remain weak a situation that has been aggravated by the COVID 19 pandemic By focusing on the relationship between constitutionalism and economic growth in Africa this volume addresses five questions 1 In the constitutional reforms of the 1990s and thereafter did constitutions also reflect the shift towards a market economy and if so in what manner 2 Given that agriculture and extractive industries are the main sources of state revenue in many African economies how are matters of land and other natural resources dealt with constitutionally 3 Where the market economy is captured in a constitution what is the state's relationship to that economy interventionist or laissez faire or somewhere in between Have constitutions also established a social state that provides its citizens with the basic elements of a dignified life 4 In the process of constitution making and implementation concerning the economy what impact has globalization had on constitutionalism and economic growth in Africa 5 Finally how has the relationship between constitutionalism and economic growth played out in practice Is there a symbiotic relationship Has constitutionalism led or may do so to greater economic prosperity

Constitutionalism and the Economy in Africa offers a range of comprehensive arguments and case studies that will be of interest and use to academics post graduate students judges lawyers economists and policy makers involved in the economic role of the State the impact of globalization and the constitutional foundations for land and natural resources exploitation
