

Applications of Area, Length and Distance

1. A sector of a circle is a region of the circle bounded by a central angle and the corresponding arc.

As proportional relationships exist between the central angle bounding the sector and the complete circle, these have previously determined a relation that could be written provided that arc length, s , is proportional to (given a central angle) values for distances of rotation. This function gives the arc length for any length of a circle of radius, r , in given angles.

$$\text{Arc Length} = \frac{\theta}{360} (\text{circumference of rotation})$$

Another way to find given length is to think about unit or, rather, radians. As you collected that the given values in this previous activity, you determined that arc length is directly a function of the circle's circumference and can be expressed in terms of r . This relationship may be summarized proportionally as circle of any given radius, r , is written:

$$\frac{\text{Arc Length}}{r} = \frac{\text{Circumference of Rotation}}{r}$$

Similarly, you determined a function that could be written provided the arc length by a central angle in an angle of rotation of a circle of radius, r .

$$\text{Arc Length for Length of Rotation} = \frac{\theta}{360} (\text{circumference of rotation})$$

As you collected that for given radius in this previous activity, you determined that, the arc length, area of a circle (or area swept) is proportional to the circle's circumference may be expressed in terms of r . This relationship is summarized proportionally for a circle of any given radius, r , is written:

$$\frac{\text{Arc Length}}{r} = \frac{\text{Circumference of Rotation}}{r}$$

Example: (Based on previous activity and necessary.)

1. If the radius of a circle is 10 units and the angle is 60 degrees, find the arc length and area of the sector.
