Retrospective Pledge Voting and Political Accountability Theres Matthieß, 2024-08-17 This book examines retrospective pledge voting the phenomenon of whether and under which conditions citizens are likely to withdraw their support for political parties that have failed to turn their pre election pledges into tangible policies once they have joined government It puts forward a new theoretical framework on retrospective pledge voting Whilst one would expect voters to punish government parties that have broken their promises by refusing to vote for them at the next election little research has been done to show whether and under what contexts this is actually the case Adopting a multi methods approach the book demonstrates that citizens do punish government parties that have shown a poor performance in fulfilling their election pledges and that more sceptical citizens with negative pre existing opinions punish pledge breakage more severely Bringing together research on election pledges government performance and voting the book will appeal to all those interested in democratic representation politics public policy and voter party linkages
