Changizi,2013-06-29 In The Brain from 25 000 Feet Mark A Changizi defends a non reductionist philosophy and applies it to a variety of problems in the brain sciences Some of the key questions answered are as follows Why do we see visual illusions and why are illusions inevitable for any finite speed vision machine Why aren t brains universal learning machines and what does the riddle of induction and its solution have to do with human learning and innateness The author tackles such questions as why the brain is folded and why animals have as many limbs as they do explaining how these relate to principles of network optimality He describes how most natural language words are vague and then goes on to explain the connection to the ultimate computational limits on machines There is also a fascinating discussion of how animals accommodate greater behavioral complexity This book is a must read for researchers interested in taking a high level non mechanistic approach to answering age old fundamental questions in the brain sciences Rabbit Anatomy and Dissection Guide Bruce D.
