Simon, Mohamed Alaa Abdel-Moneim, 2011-10-16 This book provides data on the main policies guiding military mobilization and structures It addresses the gender racial and political forces that shaped these policies A Military History of Modern South Africa Ian van der Waag, 2018-03-14 The story of a century of conflict and change from the Second Boer War to the anti apartheid movement and the many battles in between Twentieth century South Africa saw continuous often rapid and fundamental socioeconomic and political change The century started with a brief but total war Less than ten years later Britain brought the conquered Boer republics and the Cape and Natal colonies together into the Union of South Africa The Union Defence Force later the SADF was deployed during most of the major wars of the century as well as a number of internal and regional struggles the two world wars Korea uprising and rebellion on the part of Afrikaner and black nationalists and industrial unrest The century ended as it started with another war This was a flash point of the Cold War which embraced more than just the subcontinent and lasted a long thirty years The outcome included the final withdrawal of foreign troops from southern Africa the withdrawal of South African forces from Angola and Namibia and the transfer of political power away from a white elite to a broad based democracy This book is the first study of the South African armed forces as an institution and of the complex roles that these forces played in the wars rebellions uprisings and protests of the period It deals in the first instance with the evolution of South African defense policy the development of the armed forces and the people who served in and commanded them It also places the narrative within the broader national past to produce a fascinating study of a century in which South Africa was uniquely embroiled in three total wars Community Rights, Conservation and Contested Land Fred Nelson, 2010 Natural resource governance is central to the outcomes of biodiversity conservation efforts and to patterns of economic development particularly in resource dependent rural communities The institutional arrangements that define natural resource governance are outcomes of political processes whereby numerous groups with often divergent interests negotiate for access to and control over resources These political processes determine the outcomes of resource governance reform efforts such as widespread attempts to decentralize or devolve greater tenure over land and resources to local communities This volume examines the political dynamics of natural resource governance processes through a range of comparative case studies across east and southern Africa These cases include both local and national settings and examine issues such as land rights tourism development wildlife conservation participatory forest management and the impacts of climate change and are drawn from both academics and field practitioners working across the region Published with IUCN The Bradley Fund for the Environment SASUSG and Norwegian Ministry of Foreign Affairs South Africa News Update , 1994 Consists of reproductions of articles from South African duties and functions following the Cold War The Security-development Nexus Lars Buur, Steffen Jensen, Finn Stepputat, 2007 The link between security and development has been rediscovered after 9 11 by a broad range of scholars Focusing on Southern Africa the Security Development Nexus shows that the much debated linkage is by no means a recent invention Rather the security development linkage has been an important element of the state policies of colonial as well as post colonial regimes during the Cold War and it seems to be prospering in new configurations under the present wave of democratic transitions Contributors focus on a variety of contexts from South Africa Mozambique and Namibia to Zimbabwe and Democratic Congo they explore the nexus and our understanding of security and development through the prism of peace keeping interventions community policing human rights gender land contests squatters nation and state building social movements DDR programmes and the different trajectories democratization has taken in different parts of the region

Cultural Diversity in the Armed Forces Joseph L. Soeters, Jan Van der Meulen, 2007-01-24 This volume explores ethnicity and gender developments in relation to the military In some countries the armed forces have a long history in responding to ethnic diversity while elsewhere it has come up only recently as a policy issue An even handed representation of ethnic minorities in the military is recognized as crucial for enhancing its social legitimacy and professional quality The same can be said about the integration of women in the military which during a few decades across the board has grown into more than just another issue of personnel policies Indeed with regard to gender the symbolism and sensitivities surrounding core identities are at stake as with the presence of gays and lesbians in the military Written by experts in the field the chapters cover fourteen countries around the world the USA Canada Bolivia Ecuador Brazil South Africa Eritrea India Israel Great Britain France Germany Belgium and The Netherlands Taken together the armed forces of these countries offer a fascinating mix of similarities and differences in the ways they try to manage cultural diversity Cultural Diversity in the Armed Forces will be of interest to students and scholars of military studies sociology gender and political science Landmine Monitor

Report 2003 ,2003 Defensive Restructuring of the Armed Forces in Southern Africa Bjørn Møller, Gavin Cawthra, 2019-01-15 Published in 1997 the work explores the reorientation of security policies and the accompanying restructuring of the armed forces going on in Southern Africa under entirely new circumstances Democracy has come to South Africa the civil wars in Angola and Mozambique have ended and the region is establishing a regional framework for cooperation While covering the entire region a special focus is placed on South Africa which is predestined to play a leading role but which is struggling with the legacy of the apartheid regime and its repeated aggressions against neighbouring states A defensive restructuring of the South African of the South African military is an element in the building of mutual trust The implications of such defensive restructuring to a non offensive defence are described in detail In addition to the analytical contribution the work also contains central documents and a bibliography Aspects of Peacekeeping Stuart Gordon, Francis Toase, 2014-05-22 The nature of UN operational involvement in the practical management of conflict has evolved dramatically since the end of the Cold War. The post Cold War liberation of the Security Council, the subsequent paralysis in its decision making competence and the apparent dilution of the concept of sovereignty as a prohibition on intervention have been principal factors in the evolving fortunes of UK peace support operations. This evolving environment has had profound implications for the way in which the humanitarian community, the United Nations and military forces engaged under a UN flag have reacted to peace support operations. This book explores contemporary peace support operations and examines many of the principal challenges that now confront those charged in different ways with bringing peace to war torn societies. In particular, this volume looks at the evolving nature of military UN and humanitarian non governmental organizations' intervention in these complex conflicts. It also explores how these organizations relate to one another and the way in which a division of labour is determined.

Security and Politics in South Africa Peter C. J. Vale, 2003. Exploring how the region is changing today as transnational solidarity and a single regional economy remove the distinctions between national and international politics, he asks whether South African domination can finally be overcome and considers what sort of cosmopolitan political arrangement will be appropriate for southern Africa in the new century.

BOOK JACKET Strategic Review for Southern Africa, 2006

Silencing the Guns in Africa Antonio Garcia, Jacob Udo-Udo, 2005-03-14. The scholarship of this book is drawn from local and international experts by framing critically a number of discourses on matters of security, conflict, violence and peace on the African continent. It is indeed a breath of fresh air to the scientific community largely because it contributes to the on going debates on security issues. Dr Ntsikelelo Benjamin Breakfast, Director of the Center for Security, Peace and Conflict Resolution at Nelson Mandela University. This book makes a deep contribution to scholarly literature on conflict studies, peacekeeping and peacebuilding in Africa. Written largely from the perspective of the applied social sciences, it is empirically rich and offers refreshing insights into social behaviour in military contexts. This is a timely contribution because current public discourse in South Africa is centred on the gains and missed opportunities of thirty years of democracy and new lenses are welcome. Many of the chapters reflect South African experiences. This is to be welcomed as it demonstrates that scholars and practitioners from the country are reflecting on the complexities of South African experiences of defence and security matters in contemporary times. Dr Sandy Africa, Director of Research at Mapungubwe Institute for Strategic Reflection, MISTRA. This volume brings together the voices of scholars and practitioners, a diverse group of writers who are passionate about and committed to creating a safer, more prosperous and peaceful Africa. Each with their own specialism, this work combines many different world views and approaches. Conflict in Africa is an impossibly broad topic to cover in a single edited publication and so we focus on a select number of case studies, expositions and themes.
