Public Administration and Governance in Democratic South Africa Izimangaliso Malatjie, Busani Ngcaweni, Thanyani S. Madzivhandila, Mzukisi Qobo, 2024-07-08 There is a national emergency and it has become more pronounced as South Africa faces challenges of Ethical leadership in both the private and public sector Recently the Zondo Commission Public Investment Corporation PIC Commission and Courts of Law released reports that cast light on the conduct of public officials There have also been several reports by the Special Investigating Unit SIU dealing with the same matter This phenomenon is not only unique to South Africa Reports of multinational companies that have been implicated in unethical and corrupt abound These include corporate scandals such as those of Enron WorldCom Nortel and AIG These malfeasances have demonstrated abundantly that corporate leaders are not immune to unethical behaviour Bedi Alpasla Naidoo 2012a What this showed is that the issue of ethics is important in the public sector Delivering an Elusive Dream of Democracy Joleen Steyn Kotze, 2018-09-07 This book analyses the decline of the ANC in Nelson Mandela Bay the economic hub of the Eastern Cape also known as the party's heartland Over the course of last twenty four years party dominant dilemmas have plagued the ANC in the Nelson Mandela Bay This includes corruption political factionalism blurring the line between party and state as well as engaging in spoils politics While this metro had encapsulated the Dream of 94 since the inception of democracy in South Africa weak quality of governance lack of political efficacy and mediocre if not anorexic service delivery effectively led to the ANC losing this symbolically important metropolitan municipality With the loss of Nelson Mandela Bay voters effectively demonstrated that they are no longer willing to accept the liberation narrative and elusive promise of a better tomorrow The ANC can no longer rely on the political capital of the liberation struggle in securing and maintaining its electorally dominant position The loss of Nelson Mandela Bay coupled with Johannesburg and Tshwane could potentially signal the end of ANC electoral dominance The author tracks the electoral decline of the ANC and analyses the dynamics that impact on its ability to potentially sustain its political and electoral dominant position in future elections Open Learning as a Means of Advancing Social Justice Tabisa Mayisela, Shanali Govender, 2024-01-23 This volume investigates the uptake of open learning in South African Technical Vocational Education and Training TVET colleges and higher education institutions Comprised of 16 studies focused on activities at a range of colleges and universities across the country these chapters aim to promote a better understanding of open learning practices across the Post School Education and Training PSET sector including issues such as recognition of prior learning access for students with disabilities work integrated learning professional development novel student funding mechanisms leadership for open educational practices institutional culture student support blended and online learning flexible learning online assessment open educational resource development models and funding and micro credentials This collection of peer reviewed chapters contributes to understanding the ways in which South African PSET institutions and educators are interpreting open learning as a means of advancing social justice It includes a historical and contemporary understanding of the economic cultural and political obstacles facing PSET drawing on Nancy Fraser s theory of social justice as participatory parity to better understand the ways in which open learning may address systemic social injustices in order to allow South African students and educators to thrive This volume emerges from research conducted by the Cases on Open Learning COOL project an initiative by the Department of Higher Education and Training in partnership with the Centre for Innovation in Learning and Teaching CILT at the University of Cape Town UCT in South Africa

Marriages of Inconvenience Susan Booysen,2021-12-12 Marriages of Inconvenience The politics of coalitions in South Africa is a research based volume that collates and interprets lessons that South Africa should take to heart in managing interparty coalitions It draws from domestic experiences as well as from case studies on the rest of the African continent and generic instances further afield Coalitions in various iterations have been a part of the South African polity since the attainment of democracy in 1994 This started nationally with a grand coalition in the form of a Government of National Unity as mandated in the interim constitution Coalitions have also found expression in some of the country s provinces After the transition multiparty governments were sustained at national and provincial levels either as a matter of necessity due to election outcomes or for other political considerations At local government level coalitions have been relatively commonplace in South Africa from the onset of democratically elected municipalities in 2000 with many situations where no single party attained an absolute majority This gained prominence from 2016 when many metropolitan governments and some large towns became sites of coalition politics

Paradise Lost ,2022-06-13 Paradise Lost Race and Racism in Post apartheid South Africa is about the continuing salience of race and persistence of racism in post apartheid South Africa The chapters in the volume illustrate the multiple ways in which race and racism are manifested and propose various strategies to confront racial inequality racism and the power structure that underpins it while exploring how through a renewed commitment to a non racial society apartheid racial categories can be put under erasure at exactly the time they are being reinforced

Extractive Industries and Changing State Dynamics in Africa Jon Schubert,Ulf Engel,Elísio Macamo,2018-07-04 This book uses extractive industry projects in Africa to explore how political authority and the nation state are reconfigured at the intersection of national political contestations and global transnational capital Instead of focusing on technological zones and the new social assemblages at the actual sites of construction or mineral extraction the authors use extractive industry projects as a topical lens to investigate contemporary processes of state making at the state corporation nexus Throughout the book the authors seek to understand how public political actors and private actors of liberal capitalism negotiate and redefine notions and practices of sovereignty by setting legal regulatory and fiscal standards Rather than looking at resource governance from a normative perspective the authors look at how these negotiations are shaped by and reshape the self conception of various national and transnational actors and how these jointly redefine the role of the state in managing these processes for the greater good Extractive Industries and Changing State

Dynamics in Africa will be useful for researchers upper level students and policy makers who are interested in new articulations of state making and politics in Africa

Bantu Holomisa Bantu Holomisa, Eric Naki, 2018-11-01 Bantu Holomisa is one of South Africa's most respected and popular political figures Born in the Transkei in 1955 he attended an elite school for the sons of chiefs and headmen While other men his age were joining Umkhonto we Sizwe Holomisa enrolled in the Transkeian Defence Force and rose rapidly through the ranks As head of the Transkeian Defence Force Holomisa led successive coups against the homeland regimes and then became the head of its military government He turned the Transkei into a liberated space giving shelter to ANC and PAC activists and declared his intention of holding a referendum on the reincorporation of the Transkei into South Africa These actions brought him immense popularity and the military dictator became a liberation hero for many South Africans When the unbanned ANC held its first election for its national executive in 1994 Holomisa who had by now joined the party received the most votes beating long time veterans and party stalwarts He and Mandela developed a close relationship and Holomisa served in Mandela's cabinet as deputy minister for environmental affairs and tourism As this biography reveals the relationship with both Mandela and the ANC broke down after Holomisa testified before the Truth and Reconciliation Commission among other issues that Stella Sigcau and her cabinet colleagues had accepted a bribe from Sol Kerzner After being expelled from the ANC Holomisa formed his own party the United Democratic Movement with Roelf Meyer As leader of the UDM Holomisa has played a prominent role in building coalitions among opposition parties and in leading important challenges to the dominant party This biography written in collaboration with Holomisa presents an engaging and revealing account of a man who has made his mark as a game changer in South African politics

Race Talk in the South African Media Gawie Botma, 2020-01-06 This book makes a very significant timely and relevant contribution to a very topical subject of immense local as well as global interest Through tracing the evolution of media discourse about race and racism which the author prefers to call race talk the writer prised open a window to a panoramic variegated and yet nuanced perspective of the perennial South African race question etched across the vistas of time and memory since Jan Van Riebeeck set up the first European settlement as a refreshment station for the Dutch East India Company at the Cape of Good Hope in 1652 up to the time of writing this book It lends a fresh lens through which to re-read South African society not only to a studious scholar of media history but also to anybody interested in the general history of South Africa Dr Zvenyika Mugari WITS This book is based on meticulous archival searching presented in a new fresh and highly engaging way This is a book based on evidentiary led scholarly principles that has lucidity as a goal Unlike so many scholarly works which are turgid and very difficult to read because they are written in restricted codes meant only for other academics this manuscript is wonderfully lucid accessible and a pleasure to read The prime readership will be academics but its lucidity makes it appealing beyond a purely academic readership hopefully reaching media professionals and students also and influencing debates on race policy This is how academic books in fact should be written Prof Keyan

Tomaselli University of Johannesburg The author has embarked on a very difficult and complex task of understanding the race construct in the South African media context This is a highly contested and contentious space in South Africa and it is particularly arduous for a white middle class middle aged Afrikaans male to navigate this space The author has however eloquently managed to pilot this fine line of controversy He offers a balanced view of the belligerent debate without treading insensitively on the toes of protagonists and at the same time challenges prevailing views Andr Rose National Cancer Institute

Nelson Mandela Crain Soudien, 2017-03-22 The death of Nelson Mandela the great South African fighter for freedom in December 2013 prompted several colleagues within the World Council of Comparative Education Societies community to come together to think about the significance of his life and his work for education This book is the result of that coming together The contributing authors reflect on what his life the commitments he made and principally the values he took into the struggle for freedom in South Africa mean for education The point of departure for the book is that of honouring the man It begins with the argument that the values for which he stood namely the unconditional dignity of all human beings respect for difference and principally his lifelong commitment to justice have a special significance for how we as inhabitants of an increasingly connected and interdependent world conduct our personal lives our relationships with one another and with the material and living space which surrounds us It is an ecological approach As the world moves into a twenty first century where paradoxically we know so much and yet appear to understand so little and so find ourselves struggling to create social lives in which all of us can feel respected can offer respect to others and live lives free of fear and anxiety the values for which he stood have specific relevance for how we do the important job of teaching and what we put into it Mandela poses deeply provocative questions about the kinds of lives we seek for ourselves and for everybody else around us
