The Common Good and Environmental Governance for the Support of Life Laura Westra,2016-08-17 The ongoing environmental crisis has given rise to grave concerns everywhere and a number of authors have approached this topic from various disciplines and points of view proposing different strategies to address and correct the situation. A major problem however is presented by the role and possible efficiency of existing legal regimes most of which do not consider seriously the ecological problems that are the basis of most of the global problems that beset us. In 2015 Italy hosted the 2015 Expo of Milano, an important fair that attempted to address some of these major issues primarily the availability of safe food and water and the legal regimes that govern their distribution. The conference that resulted in this volume took place at the University of Parma, an old university in a city roughly one hour away. This volume discusses a variety of environmental and ecological issues from the standpoint of existing legal instruments with a primary focus on the necessity for ecologically oriented governance in order to mitigate and redress a situation that at present supports multiple human rights violations.
