Surface Area

Practice each 3-dimensional figure's surface area formula. Be certain you are using the correct formula. The formulas below are for regular solids only. Irregular solids have formulas for surface area that require a subformula (usually the area of a rectangle) to find the area of one face. The area of one face is the required sub-formula of formulas without labels that require a formula. All area is required to find the surface area of a solid.

Surface Area of a Prism:	SA = surface area of bases + lateral area. A rectangular prism's perimeter is P and height is h . Then SA = $P \times h$.
Surface Area of a Pyramid:	SA = surface area of base + lateral area. A rectangular prism's perimeter is P and height is h . Then SA = $P \times h$.
SA of a Cylinder:	$2\pi rh$ (circumference of base $\times$ height)
Surface Area of a Sphere:	$4\pi r^2$ (circumference of base $\times$ height $\times$ 2)

Examples

Find the surface area of each solid. Round to the nearest hundredth.
