Heckman,2003 The Quechua people of southern Peru are both agriculturalists and herders who maintain large herds of alpacas and llamas But they are also weavers and it is through weaving that their cultural traditions are passed down over the generations Owing to the region s isolation the textile symbols forms of clothing and technical processes remain strongly linked to the people s environment and their ancestors Heckman s photographs convey the warmth and vitality of the Quechua people and illustrate how the land is intricately woven into their lives and their beliefs Quechua weavers in the mountainous regions near Cuzco Peru produce certain textile forms and designs not found elsewhere in the Andes Their textiles are a legacy of their Andean ancestors Andrea Heckman has devoted more than twenty years to documenting and analyzing the ways Andean beliefs persist over time in visual symbols embedded in textiles and portrayed in rituals Her primary focus is the area around the sacred peak of Ausangate in southern Peru some eighty five miles southeast of the former Inca capital of Cuzco The core of this book is an ethnographic account of the textiles and their place in daily life that considers how the form and content of Quechua patterns and designs pass stories down and preserve traditions as well as how the ritual use of textiles sustain a sense of community and a connection to the past Heckman concludes by assessing the influences of the global economy on indigenous Quechua who maintain their own worldview within the larger fabric of twentieth century cultural values and hence have survived everything from Latin American militarism to a tidal wave of post modern change

The Jaguar Within Rebecca R. Stone, 2012-09-21 An important new way of viewing the prehistoric art of the Americas The Jaguar Within demonstrates that understanding a work of art's connection with shamanic trance can lead to an appreciation of it as an extremely creative solution to the inherent challenge of giving material form to nonmaterial realities and states of being Shamanism the practice of entering a trance state to experience visions of a reality beyond the ordinary and to gain esoteric knowledge has been an important part of life for indigenous societies throughout the Americas from prehistoric times until the present Much has been written about shamanism in both scholarly and popular literature but few authors have linked it to another significant visual realm art In this pioneering study Rebecca R Stone considers how deep familiarity with and profound respect for the extraordinary visionary experiences of shamanism profoundly affected the artistic output of indigenous cultures in Central and South America before the European invasions of the sixteenth century Using ethnographic accounts of shamanic trance experiences Stone defines a core set of trance vision characteristics including enhanced senses ego dissolution bodily distortions flying spinning and undulating sensations synaesthesia and physical transformation from the human self into animal and other states of being Stone then traces these visionary characteristics in ancient artworks from Costa Rica and Peru She makes a convincing case that these works especially those of the Moche depict shamans in a trance state or else convey the perceptual experience of visions by creating deliberately chaotic and distorted conglomerations of partial inverted and incoherent images The preColumbian Textiles in the Roemer- and Pelizaeus-Museum Hildesheim, Germany Lena Bjerregaard, 2020-01-14 Along the coast of Peru is one of the driest deserts in the world Here under the sand the ancient Peruvians buried their dead wrapped in gorgeous textiles As organic material keeps almost forever when stored without humidity light and oxygen many of the mummies excavated in the last hundred years are in excellent conditions And so are the textiles wrapped around them Their clear colors are still dazzling and the textile fibers in good condition Textiles were highly valued objects in ancient Peru used for expressing status and diverse messages in these non literate but highly organized and very developed cultures Much energy innovation and aesthetic sensibility were invested in the textiles The preColumbian peoples had access to exquisite materials the local fibers were camelid fibers alpaca and vicuña cotton and plant fibers agave for instance The camelid fibers have very little scales compared to sheep fibers and are long soft and lustrous The Peruvian cotton grew in 5 different colors The ancient Peruvians were also master dyers and have for thousands of years dyed their yarn with indigo blue madder red cochineal red sea snail purple and yellow from many kinds of plants And so they produced some of the finest most beautiful and most interesting textiles in the world Instead of writing they kept the order in their world encoded in textile fibers The Roemer and Pelizaeus Museum in Hildesheim houses a collection of 405 preColumbian textiles Most of them are fragments but a few complete pieces are present I have chosen 133 pieces for this publication to represent the collection at its best Order,
