Painting Raimond Van Marle, 2013-06-29 It was not without a very exact idea of the importance of the enterprise that my publisher and myself decided to undertake the publication of the continuation of my Development of the Italian Schools of Painting a continuation which will comprise an equally detailed 1 account of painting in the 15th century as that which I have given of the 14th century There is a well defined division between Italian art of the Quattro cento and that of the previous century and my method of dealing with it must naturally be quite different Artists were less dominated by the traditions of the various localized schools there was more spontaneity more occasion for the manifestation of individuality and very important also was the sum of all previous artistic experience giving rise to a new and more extensive technique which solved many problems of which artists of past centuries did not even suspect the existence Lastly quite another mentality is manifest in the works of art of the 15th century Venetian Painting Matters, 1450-1750 Jodi Cranston, 2015 Collection of essays that focus on the Venetian style of painting and the influence of Venetian painters

The Understanding of Ornament in the Italian Renaissance Clare Lapraik Guest, 2015-11-16 In this paradigm shifting study developed through close textual readings and sensitive analysis of artworks Clare Lapraik Guest re evaluates the central role of ornament in pre modern art and literature Moving from art and thought in antiquity to the Italian Renaissance she examines the understandings of ornament arising from the Platonic Aristotelian and Sophistic traditions and the tensions which emerged from these varied meanings The book views the Renaissance as a decisive point in the story of ornament when its subsequent identification with style and historicism are established It asserts ornament as a fundamental not an accessory element in art and presents its restoration to theoretical dignity as essential to historical scholarship and aesthetic reflection

Art and Love in Renaissance Italy Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.), Kimbell Art Museum, 2008 Many famous artworks of the Italian Renaissance were made to celebrate love marriage and family They were the pinnacles of a tradition dating from early in the era of commemorating betrothals marriages and the birth of children by commissioning extraordinary objects maiolica glassware jewels textiles paintings that were often also exchanged as gifts This volume is the first comprehensive survey of artworks arising from Renaissance rituals of love and marriage and makes a major contribution to our understanding of Renaissance art in its broader cultural context The impressive range of works gathered in these pages extends from birth trays painted in the early fifteenth century to large canvases on mythological themes that Titian painted in the mid 1500s Each work of art would have been recognized by contemporary viewers for its prescribed function within the private domestic domain

BOOK JACKET The Development of the Italian Schools of Painting Charlotte Van Marle, 2013-06-29 With the sudden and immature death of the Author this work which was planned to comprise 21 volumes has had to end with the 18th From a number of students and art critics requests have reached the publisher and myself that an index should be made of the volumes which have been published Herein their desire has been satisfied This general index is divided into two parts one for names of places so that with the greatest ease and without loss of time the student can find all the Italian paintings from early Christian times up to the end of the Quattrocento which are scattered throughout the churches galleries and private collections of Europe and America For the larger towns the material is divided into the following headings I Churches and Monasteries II Public Collections III Public Buildings and Streets IV Private

Collections and this order though not indicated has always been followed for the smaller localities The second division contains the names of artists each one accompanied by dates and where possible an indication of the site of his activity The chief aim of this index is to make it easier to consult the enormous amount of material treated in the 18 volumes For the traveller who desires to know what paintings are to be found in any town this index should be a valuable vade mecum

Collecting Art in the Italian Renaissance Court Leah R. Clark, 2018-06-28 This book presents a new perspective on the Italian Renaissance court by examining the circulation collection and exchange of art objects Blood, Milk, Ink, Gold Rebecca Zorach, 2005 Most people would be hard pressed to name a famous artist from Renaissance France Yet sixteenth century French kings believed they were the heirs of imperial Rome and commissioned a magnificent array of visual arts to secure their hopes of political ascendancy with images of overflowing abundance With a wide ranging yet richly detailed interdisciplinary approach Rebecca Zorach examines the visual culture of the French Renaissance where depictions of sacrifice luxury fertility violence metamorphosis and sexual excess are central Zorach looks at the cultural political and individual roles that played out in these artistic themes and how eventually these aesthetics of exuberant abundance disintegrated amidst perceptions of decadent excess Throughout the book abundance and excess flow in liquids blood milk ink and gold that highlight the materiality of objects and the human body and explore the value and values accorded to them The arts of the lavish royal court at Fontainebleau and in urban centers are here explored in a vibrant tableau that illuminates our own contemporary relationship to excess and desire From marvelous works by Francois Clouet to oversexed ornamental prints to Benvenuto Cellini's golden saltcellar fashioned for Francis I Blood Milk Ink Gold covers an astounding range of subjects with precision and panache producing the most lucid well rounded portrait of the cultural politics of the French Renaissance to date Dosso Dossi Peter Humfrey, Dosso Dossi, Mauro Lucco, Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.), J. Paul Getty Museum, 1998 Dosso's rich color schemes are akin to those of his fellow North Italian Titian he learned something about innovative composition from Raphael and about the force of the body from Michelangelo But his paintings have a very individual appeal In leafy natural surroundings containing an array of animals and heavenly bodies events unfold that are often enigmatic enacted by characters whose interrelationships elude definition European Sculpture, 1400-1900, in the Metropolitan Museum of Art Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.), Ian Wardropper, 2011 This beautiful book features masterpieces of sculpture in the collection of the Metropolitan Museum dating from the Renaissance through the nineteenth century Celebrated works by the great European sculptors including Luca and Andrea della Robbia Juan Martinez Montañés Gianlorenzo Bernini Jean Antoine Houdon Bertel Thorvaldsen Antoine Louis Barye Jean Baptiste Carpeaux Edgar Degas and Auguste Rodin are joined by striking new additions to the collection notably Franz Xaver Messerschmidt's remarkable bust of a troubled and introspective man The ninety two selected examples are diverse in media marble bronze wood terracotta and ivory and size ranging from a tiny oil lamp fantastically conceived and
