

Animal Farm Chapter Four Questions

Directions: Answer each in a complete sentence. Use textual evidence to support your response.

1. What do Snowball and Napoleon do to encourage the spread of Animalism?

Snowball and Napoleon encourage the spread of Animalism by sending "out flights of pigeons whose instructions were to mingle with the animals on neighboring farms" (Orwell, 54).

2. Who are Frederick and Pilkington?

Frederick and Pilkington are the owners of the farms that reside on each side of Animal Farm.

3. In what ways do the humans try and stop the spread of Animalism?

The humans try and stop the spread of Animalism by stating "the animals there practiced cannibalism, tortured one another with red-hot horseshoes, and had females in common" (Orwell, 55). They were basically trying to spread lies so that the animals would not want to rebel.

4. Where does Snowball get his ideas for defending Animal Farm?

Snowball gets his ideas for defending Animal Farm by studying "an old book of Julius Caesar's campaigns" (Orwell, 57).

5. Describe how the animals are able to successfully defend the farm against the humans.

The animals are able to successfully defend the farm against the humans by working together and strategically planning their defenses.

6. Which animals are injured or killed during the battle?

During the battle, Snowball is injured and one sheep is killed.

7. How do the animals celebrate their victory?

The animals celebrate their victory by reassembling "in the wildest excitement, each recounting his own exploits in the battle" (Orwell, 59).

They also hoisted the flag and sung Beasts of England.

8. What part does Napoleon play during the Battle of the Cowshed? What do you think this says about him? During the Battle of the Cowshed, Napoleon was not present whatsoever. His lack of presence shows that Napoleon does not care for the well-being of everyone and does not share in the defense of the farm.

Alternative Food Networks for Sustainable, Just, Resilient and Productive Food Systems José Luis Vicente-Vicente,Lukas Egli,Felix Zoll,Simona Zollet,2024-10-01 There is growing evidence that the current globalised agri food system is neither sustainable nor resilient It is responsible for around one third of the global GHG emissions and is a major driver of biodiversity loss Furthermore its structure and distribution mode do not provide food security for all and foster socio economic inequalities between different parts of the planet Consequently an increasing number of scientists and members of the civil society are demanding a radical transformation of agri food systems The creation of alternative food networks AFNs represent a possible first step towards agri food system transformation AFNs can incorporate local indigenous and innovative knowledge and bring together a diversity of actors to connect food production and consumption and create new practices and relationships around food The creation of AFNs and ultimately of Alternative Food Systems AFS should involve different actors from farmers to social movements from policymakers to scientists AFNs have the potential to contribute to a transformation towards sustainable just resilient and productive food systems but even though they have increased in numbers and organisational forms in recent years they still remain in a niche Consequently scientific evidence of their performance is still limited This research topic will contribute to a comprehensive multi scalar and critical e g including potential counter effects understanding of the current state and future potential of AFNs It will address multiple aspects ranging from social economic and environmental aspects to productivity participation and justice Moreover it will highlight the role of governance power relations and institutions as well as barriers and ways forward to promote AFNs and their role in food system transformation

Literacy and Learning in the Content Areas Sharon Kane, 2017-07-05 The 3rd Edition of Literacy Learning in the Content Areas helps readers build the knowledge, motivation, tools and confidence they need as they integrate literacy into their middle and high school content area classrooms. Its unique approach to teaching content area literacy actively engages preservice and practicing teachers in reading and writing and the very activities that they will use to teach literacy to their own students in middle and high school classrooms. Rather than passively learning about strategies for incorporating content area literacy activities, readers get hands-on experience in such techniques as mapping, webbing, anticipation guides, booktalks, class websites and journal writing and reflection. Readers also learn how to integrate children's and young adult literature, primary sources, biographies, essays, poetry and online content communities and websites into their classrooms. Each chapter offers concrete teaching examples and practical suggestions to help make literacy relevant to students' content area learning. Author Sharon Kane demonstrates how relevant reading, writing, speaking, listening and visual learning activities can improve learning in content area subjects and at the same time help readers meet national content knowledge standards and benchmarks.
