gap in the Western model of structuralism This book offers an insight into epistemological systems that arose outside the discourses of the Euro American tradition It can thus help us to eliminate and supersede certain culturally conditioned prejudices as to the superiority and omnipresence of Western theoretical models while demonstrating incontrovertibly that the results of Western discourses are by no means the only force driving theoretical innovation at the present time

Searching for the Way Jana Rošker, 2008

The search for knowledge has been the driving force behind mankind's existence since the dawn of civilization and different cultures have developed their own theories of knowledge. Searching for the Way: Theory of Knowledge in Premodern and Modern China deals with the analyses and interpretations of modern Chinese philosophical discourses especially those concerning theories of knowledge. The author looks at how contemporary Chinese philosophy is awakening from a long slumber and substantiates the hypothesis that this new awakening is fully prepared for fruitful confrontations with the new challenges presented by a globalized world. The study of 20th century Chinese philosophy has not been the subject of any extensive and systematic discussion in neither the West in general nor in Western Sinology in particular. Hence this book will be of immense interest to those who are interested in the emerging fields of comparative philosophy, Chinese studies and theology.
