

2. Suppose that in a large population, the distribution of heights of 100-year-old people is bell-shaped. The histogram below shows the sample distribution of heights of 100 individuals who are selected from the sample, and the sample mean is greater than the sample mean of the population. What is the sample standard deviation? (Round your answer to 2 decimal places.)

- ☐ standard deviation = 6.000
☐ standard deviation = 6.125
☐ standard deviation = 6.250
☐ standard deviation = 6.375
☒ standard deviation = 6.500

✓ Answer

This question refers to the following sampling distribution: calculate the sampling variability of the mean: the standard error is $\sigma_{\bar{X}} = \sigma / \sqrt{n}$.

The quantity resulting in the sample mean by calculating the standard error of the mean $\sigma_{\bar{X}} = \sigma / \sqrt{n}$, in this case use the fact that the population standard deviation is greater than the sample mean and the sample standard deviation is $n = 100$ instead. The value is 6.5, $\sigma_{\bar{X}} = 6.500$.

3. Which of the following is false?

- ☐ Standard error is computed based on a normal distribution and always is lower than the standard deviation of the sample.
☐ As the sample size increases, the variability of the sampling distribution decreases.
☒ Standard error measures the variability in means of samples of the same size taken from the same population.
☐ Standard error is the standard deviation of the sampling distribution of the sample mean.

✗ Answer

This question refers to the following sampling distribution: calculate the sampling variability of the mean: the standard error is $\sigma_{\bar{X}} = \sigma / \sqrt{n}$.

This is the definition of the standard error.
