The Captivity of Innocence Andre LaCocque, 2010-04-02 In this study the third panel of a trilogy on J's tales about evil and innocence in the primeval era the author turns to Genesis 11 1-9 another parable this time on the so called Tower of Babel The Captivity of Innocence analyzes a systemic robotization of society as a way of keeping innocence behind bars contending that innocence never fails to offend never fails to stir envy and hate Here evil is not wrought by an individual like Cain or Lamech but by all the earth so that the summit of evil is now reached before Abraham's breakthrough in Genesis following chapter The present analysis uses a variety of techniques to interpret the biblical text including historical critical literary sociopolitical psychoanalytic and deconstructive approaches The inescapable conclusion is that Babel is the Kafkaesque image of our world and is a powerful paradigm of our hubristic contrivances and constructions Des Tours de Babel says Derrida in order to deny our finiteness Then innocence is trampled upon but it is not overcome Babel Babylon's fate is to crumble down and to bring up from her ashes the Knight of Faith The Illustrated London News, 1859 U.S. War Resisters' Quest for Refuge in Canada Sarah J. Grünendahl, 2022-08-31 When U.S. war resisters turned to Canada as refuge during the Vietnam War and the Afghanistan Iraq Wars they not only hoped to forestall deployment to a combat zone but also to build new lives and make a new home abroad In her empirical study Sarah J. Grünendahl explores and juxtaposes how well the two war resister generations have been able to establish themselves after all and to what extent they partake in Canadian society The comparison is instructive for migration and refugee studies altogether The war resisters in the sample unlike many other migrant populations did not have to contend with language and cultural barriers in their destination country given similarities between the United States and Canada Sarah J. Grünendahl's research thus allows for an analysis of the effects of residency on migrants adaptation and participation in the receiving society isolated from these two common barriers Further the study sheds light on how refugees and non citizens can employ civic engagement to claim a place for themselves and overcome societal exclusion
